Court Plans New Move At New Orleans

Deep South Waits Court Ruling In Integration Issue

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An uncertain quiet prevailed in this troubled Deep South city today as it waited for a three-judge federal court to rule on school integration.

The three Southern judges considered these paths of action:

1. A school board request to suspend integration until federal-state differences are settled.

2. A federal move to enjoin state officials and prevent their interference with school integration. A temporary restraining order, now effective, expires when the court rules.

3. A state motion calling for dismissal of action against Louisiana officials and the return of schools to their traditionally segregated basis. The motion stems from a rarely used interposition act which advocates say gives the state power to use its sovereignty as a shield to block the federal integration order.

Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., chief judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, declined to say when the ruling would be handed down.

While city and state officials awaited a court decision, New Orleans public schools closed for a week's holiday.

Police reported a calm weekend in sharp contrast to five stormy days that followed the admission of four Negro first graders to two white schools last Monday.

A financial squeeze was expected this week against the money-beset New Orleans School Board, faced with a $2-million teacher payroll.

The state was reported ready to transfer $1.5 million of school board funds from New Orleans banks to state-chartered banks in Shreveport. That would put the money beyond the jurisdiction of federal courts in case the government attempts to freeze the funds.

Man Pursues, Nabs Motorist After Mishap

A Newell man whose auto was sideswiped Saturday night on Market St. pursued the offending driver and halted him about a block away, police reported.

Frank M. Duncan, 25, of 1235 St. George St. was cited by police on a reckless driving charge after he had been halted by Wilbert C. Smith, 28, of 1016 Washington St., Newell.

Smith told police his 1958 coupe was northbound on Market at 6:05 p. m. Saturday when it was struck by Duncan's 1953 sedan. Duncan drove onto Market from W. Drury Ln. without stopping for the intersection and hit the rear of the Smith auto, the Newell man told police.

Smith said Duncan failed to halt, so he pursued the East End man to Church Alley and Jackson St., where he stopped. Duncan told police he thought the two cars had "just scraped bumpers."

Duncan forfeited a $31 bond when he failed to appear in Municipal Court. Employed in Buffalo, Duncan left Sunday night for the New York City, police said.

A 21-year-old Lisbon St. man apparently escaped injury Sunday afternoon when he was bumped by an auto while crossing Lisbon St. at 4th.

Mrs. Dorothy Glover, 40, of 9th Ave., LaCroft, reported her auto struck Garland as she drove south on Lisbon St. about 15 to 20 miles an hour. She said Garland "jumped off a bike and ran in front of my car."

Mrs. Glover said she applied the brakes, but Garland was struck by the car's bumper. He declined an offer of medical attention and said he was unhurt, she added.

A freak mishap Sunday at 4:47 p. m. on Lisbon St. damaged a 1954 auto operated by Leland Fowler, 40, of Neptune Ave., Chester, police said.

Fowler's northbound auto was hit by a piece of sheet metal which blew off a southbound truck operated by William H. Hunt Jr., 46, of 149 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Churchill May Leave Sickbed For Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's doctors hope to get him out of his sickbed for the celebration of his 86th birthday Nov. 30.

Britain's World War II leader has been lying propped up in a special adjustable bed since last Tuesday when he stumbled in his bedroom and broke a small bone in his back.

Texan Cheered As He Stands By Ike's Program For West

PARIS (AP) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson drew cheers today as he told legislators from Atlantic alliance countries that the United States stands by President Eisenhower's Atlantic policies.

Johnson said the U. S. election in no way was "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

The tall Texas senator was loudly applauded as he strode into the assembly room of the parliamentary conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. His vigorous bipartisan speech was frequently interrupted by applause of legislators drawn from all over Western Europe and Canada.

Johnson made a political tour of the hall, shaking hands all around at the conference's opening session. He strode across the hall to warmly shake hands with French Premier Michel Debre, who spoke just before Johnson. Debre disclaimed any attempt on the part of French President Charles de Gaulle to weaken NATO. On the contrary, Debre said, it was De Gaulle's idea to strengthen NATO by increasing the French weight in the organization.

And Debre added, NATO is needed as much now as at its formation 10 years ago and as the "crucial menace" of the Soviet Union is as strong as ever. Speaking at the opening of the annual parliamentarians conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Johnson made a vigorous bipartisan appeal for "a new long step toward a richer meaning for freedom." The Texas senator told 200 assembled legislators from NATO's 15 countries "the voice of isolation is stilled in America."

"A new generation of Americans — who came to early maturity fighting for freedom on the fields of Europe and the islands of the Pacific—is coming to power in the leadership of our land," Johnson said.

Johnson stressed that he was speaking as a senator and not specifically outlining policies of the administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy. However, Kennedy read the speech when he and Johnson met last week in Texas.

While Johnson's appearance here had long been planned, he was aware that the U.S. election had elevated its importance and that the speech would be watched, especially by Europeans, as the first indication of the new administration's foreign policy.

The speech indicated the Kennedy-Johnson administration would be more receptive toward moves to expand NATO's influence beyond the military field. He warned that the U.S. election "was not a call to an easier life. It was a call to a more responsible life."

$603,830 Due To Patrons Of Savings Clubs

An early Yule "gift" of $603,830 will be distributed Friday to 7,774 Christmas Club members by four area financial institutions.

Although there were 87 fewer members this year, the Yule savings plan shows an increase of $18,350 over the $585,480 distributed to 7,861 members in 1959.

The average check this year will be $77.67, compared to $74.48 last year.

The checks will go into the mail Friday afternoon — the official start of the Christmas shopping season — from the Potters Bank & Trust Co. and its Wellsville branch, the First National Bank and the Potters Savings & Loan Co. of East Liverpool, and Central Federal Savings & Loan Association of Wellsville.

First National will distribute the largest amount, mailing $232,698 to 2,975 members, an increase of $3,849 over the $228,849 paid to 2,979 members in 1959.

Potters Bank will issue 2,812 checks totaling $220,777 in East Liverpool and Wellsville, a boost of $10,069 over the $210,708 it paid to 2,878 members last year.

Potters Savings will mail 1,233 checks for $85,227. It is an increase of $1,108 over the $84,119 distributed to 1,274 club members a year ago.

Central Federal will pay $65,128 to 754 members, an increase of $1,324 over the $63,803 it mailed to 730 members a year ago.

All of the clubs showed an increase over the amounts paid out last year, but Central Federal was the only one to report a boost in the number of members.

Culvert Crash Hurts Woman

Car Leaves Highway Near East Palestine

An East Palestine woman whose auto smashed into a culvert was injured badly in one of two week-end traffic accidents, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

An East Palestine Post Office employee was injured in a second mishap when his new compact auto rolled over in a field, the patrol said.

Dorothy Mae Lueck, 45, of East Palestine was driving west when her auto went off Highway 46 west of East Palestine and struck a culvert Sunday at 2:30 a. m.

The patrol said the woman suffered multiple contusions and abrasions of both legs, a possible fractured hip, possible fractured ribs and a laceration of the chin.

She is in "fairly good" condition today in Salem City Hospital. She was cited on a charge of reckless operation, the patrol said.

In the second mishap today at 1:10 a. m. a mile north of East Palestine, Arthur L. Munyon, 38, of 41 Wood St., East Palestine, lost control on a slight curve, went left of center, and rolled over in a field along Highway 170.

The Post Office employee received a laceration of the scalp and was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment. He was driving south.

Soviet Expels U.S. Aide For 'Spy' Activity

Reds Order Major To Leave Country As Soon As Possible

MOSCOW (AP)—Maj. Irving T. McDonald, assistant U.S. air attache, was ordered today to leave the Soviet Union on the charge of conduct unbecoming a military attache.

The Russians accused McDonald of engaging in activities considered here as espionage.

He is the second U.S. air attache expelled from the Soviet Union in recent months.

Minister Counsellor Edward I. Freers was called to the Foreign Office this afternoon and told that McDonald must leave as soon as possible.

Here it was supposed that the expulsion order was in retaliation for the arrest of Igor Y. Melekh, chief of the Russian translation section of the United Nations, in New York Aug. 27. Melekh is accused of espionage.

McDonald, of Provincetown, Mass., was mentioned when the Russians last August expelled Col. Edwin M. Kirtan of Palo Alto, Calif., the U. S. air attache.

The Soviet government accused Kirtan of organizing a spy apparatus and issued a warning against McDonald for what it said was similar activity. The U.S. embassy denied the charges against both men.

McDonald was on a tour in southern Russia when the order for his expulsion was delivered, but was expected to return to Moscow immediately to prepare to leave.

News of the expulsion circulated at a reception at the Mexican embassy, given for the 50th anniversary of the Mexican Revolution.

Cuba Trims Rocket Talk In Criticism

Raul Castro Blasts 'Puppet' Nations In Angry Talk Sunday

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro says President Eisenhower's dispatch of U.S. warships to the Caribbean is criminal and "unmasks United States' puppets in Central America."

But the younger brother of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in an angry speech Sunday refrained from rattling Soviet rockets as a threat to the United States. The omission was in line with a trend noted recently in speeches by other top figures in the Castro regime.

The softer tone lent weight to speculation that Moscow had nudged Castro to take the Soviet Union out of the Cuban revolution's frontlines to preserve other Soviet irons in Latin America.

Premier Khrushchev himself said recently his rocket offer to defend Cuba was "symbolic."

The younger Castro told his audience of petroleum workers that Eisenhower's order of last week, made in response to requests by Guatemala and Nicaragua, represented "a warning by Yankee imperialism to all the peoples of Latin America that it is not going to permit Cuban-style revolutions."

Castro said Cuba supports countries in revolt in Latin America but he denied that Cuba had given any direct military assistance to rebels in the recent uprisings in Guatemala and Nicaragua.

"Our best help to them," he said, "is to preserve the revolution here, which will be a great contribution to the final liberation of all our brothers of Latin America."

Castro's speech came only hours after the shooting of a young U.S. Embassy clerk by a Cuban army captain during a scuffle outside a Havana nightclub.

Wayne Henderson, 22, of Pasadena, Calif., a communications clerk in the embassy, was seriously wounded Saturday night.

Henderson's condition was described as satisfactory after a 2½-hour operation for the removal of the bullet, which entered his body near the hip.

Cuban police said the shooting by Capt. Jorge Robreno was accidental.

They gave this account: Henderson went nightclubbing with another American Marine Cpl. William E. Tompkins, 20, of Warren, Ohio. He presented a $5 American bill to pay the check but the cashier refused to accept it on the suspicion it might be counterfeit. Much counterfeit American money has been circulating in this country. The cashier demanded pesos. Henderson refused, calling pesos "communist money."

The management summoned an off-duty policeman, who asked Henderson to go with him to the police station. Outside the nightclub, Henderson was shot.

Tidal Wave Slams Peruvian Coasts After Earthquake

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A tidal wave struck low-lying areas of northern Peru Sunday, reaching as far as a mile inland in some places. Two persons were killed and nine listed as missing.

Dispatches from Chiclayo, capital of Lambayeque Province 650 miles north of Lima, said the wave was preceded by loud underground noises. Some residents said they felt earth tremors.

An earthquake emanating from Peru was recorded on seismographs in Japan.

Chiclayo province is composed mostly of desert and coastal plain, where sugar and rice are grown.

The waves battered the small ports of Pimentel, Caletas, Santa Rosa, San Jose and Eten. A tug and 61 small craft capsized. Earthquakes and tidal waves are not uncommon on the western coast of South America, part of the "ring of fire" that stretches around the rim of the Pacific Ocean.

The greatest recent disaster was last May in southern Chile. The city of Valdivia was almost wiped out by earthquakes and a 12-foot tidal wave. The city of Concepcion was also badly damaged. Hundreds were killed and thousands injured.

U.N. Expected To Vote Seat For Kasavubu

Congo Action May Be Taken Today By General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Foes of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu mounted a last-ditch effort today to keep the U. N. General Assembly from seating him and his delegation.

But the prospect was that the assembly would vote to seat him anyway, late today or some time Tuesday. That would give the United States a victory over an Asian-African-Communist faction favoring Kasavubu's bitter rival, deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

One experienced diplomat said the vote to seat Kasavubu might be as much as 60-20 with 18 abstaining. A day-long debate is expected and a special night session may be held.

The first four countries on the speakers' list — Yugoslavia, Guinea, Mali and Ceylon — have come out against Kasavubu.

Kasavubu, who came to New York two weeks ago to press his case, has said that until he is seated, he will not state his attitude toward the U. N. conciliation commission for the Congo.

Some diplomats say Kasavubu has intimated that once he gets the seat, he will welcome the 15-nation Asian-African commission to carry out its assignment of seeking peace among rival politicians. Others doubt that he will do so.

Guinea and Mali have said privately that if Kasavubu is seated they will quit the commission. Some on the commission say that if some of its members drop out, none should go to the Congo.

But Jaja Wachuku of Nigeria, commission chairman, told a reporter Sunday nothing would keep it from making the trip. He said

Columbiana Man Shot Accidentally By Hunter

LISBON — A 31-year-old Columbiana man was released from Salem City Hospital Saturday after he was struck by a shotgun blast of another hunter about three miles east of Columbiana.

Sheriff Russell VanFossan said Wayne Urshler of 50 W. Salem St., Columbiana, suffered wounds of the abdomen and thigh when hit by pellets fired in an accidental discharge of a gun held by Burdell Heck, 25, of E. Park Ave., Columbiana.

The two men were rabbit hunting on opposite sides of a brush patch on the Wise Farm when the mishap took place about 4 p. m. Saturday.

Hancock Man Loses Life In Go-Kart Crash

Racer Leaves Track Near Cumberland, Hits Parked Truck

A New Cumberland area man died early Sunday night in Weirton General Hospital of injuries suffered in a "go-kart" accident while racing on a track south of the Hancock County seat a short time earlier.

Melvin L. Miller, 45, died at 6:40 p. m. Sunday of internal injuries received when the little racing vehicle veered out of control on a curve and slammed under the rear of his nearby parked pickup truck.

A trailer hitch attached to the truck's rear bumper struck Mr. Miller in the chest as the "go-kart" went under the vehicle.

The accident occurred at 4:15 p. m. at a racing track on Hardins Run Rd. Witnesses told Hancock County sheriff's deputies that Mr. Miller had been racing only a short time when the small vehicle, sometimes called a "track rabbit," veered off the course on a curve.

The "go-kart" Mr. Miller was operating missed some bales of hay that are used as safety barriers on curves, then went under his truck while out of control.

Deputies said a mechanic inspected the little racing vehicle after the accident and while finding the brakes in operating order, discovered that a "butterfly" mechanism in the carburetor had come off. The vehicle left the track at full speed, deputies said.

The racing track is owned by Robert Carson. Witnesses said Mr. Miller had been driving the small cars about three years.

He was born Dec. 31, 1915, in West Alexander, Pa., a son of Russell L. and Anna Hamitt Miller. He lived in New Cumberland four years.

An operating engineer in construction.

Community Fund Drive Stands Now At $39,393

The Community Fund drive, boosted by collections in the last week, now stands at $39,393, William A. Black, campaign chairman, said today.

Praising the work of volunteers in the last week, Black warned the total is only 47.8 per cent of the $82,368 goal to be shared by six agencies.

The new report shows an increase of $24,450 since Nov. 14 and $15,401 since an interim report was made Thursday, Black said.

Asking workers to renew their efforts, the campaign chairman said more than 500 pledge cards still haven't been returned to headquarters.

Reds Show Advances In Legislature

Conservatives Roll Up New Margin, But Fail For Majority

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's pro-U.S. ruling conservatives rolled back to control of Parliament today but failed to get the all-out backing they had asked of the nation's voters.

The conservatives claimed their victory was a broad endorsement of the U.S.-Japan security pact and other close ties with the West.

Their leftist opponents claimed leftist gains proved just the opposite.

The nationwide Sunday balloting that returned Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's Liberal Democrats (conservatives) to power followed the same general pattern of elections in Japan since World War II. It showed a conservative majority battling a slowly but steadily increasing leftist minority.

A middle-road appeal, made by the Democratic Socialist party, was crushed as Japanese voters repeated their sharp swing to the right and left.

The Communists made their best showing in 10 years, increasing their vote from 2.6 to 2.9 per cent and winning three seats.

The vote came against a background of mob scenes in Parliament, violent demonstrations against the U.S.-Japan security pact and President Eisenhower's cancelled visit to Japan. While party leaders played on foreign policy themes during the campaign, regional and domestic issues and personalities were, as always, important.

With all but one of 467 parliamentary seats decided, the unofficial count gave this breakdown:

Liberal Democrats 296, Socialists, 145, Democratic Socialists 16, Communists 3, Agrarians 1, independents 5.

Lines Blocked In Derailment

Cars Leave Tracks Near Columbiana

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co.'s main line of the Ft. Wayne Division was blocked by the derailment of a section of a westbound freight train about 6:30 a. m. today a mile east of Columbiana.

Twelve cars left the tracks, blocking both the east and west-bound lanes. Wreck crews from the Canton area were called and started clearing the tracks shortly afterward.

Several boxcars and flatcars were damaged. One of the flatcars was carrying automobile frames and another was loaded with steel rolls. Railroad authorities said the steel rolls apparently broke loose and shifted, causing the car to jump the tracks.

None of the boxcars broke open but the car frames and steel rolls were scattered along the right-of-way.

The freight was headed for Detroit. No one was injured. The wreckage was spread over both lines and both passenger and freight traffic had to be rerouted. Some of the traffic was being put on the Bayard Cutoff. One official said the area probably would be cleared sometime this afternoon.

Meanwhile, wreck crews still are working at Salineville today to repair tracks damaged in a freight derailment there Wednesday morning. Only the westbound lane is open and it is being utilized alternately for traffic in both directions. About 1,000 feet of track was damaged when the cars derailed just as the train started moving after having been halted.

Ikeda Found New Faith In His Sufferings

TOKYO (AP) — Hayato Ikeda, the victor in Japan's eighth post-war election, found faith and renewed self confidence in deep personal suffering.

The 60-year-old prime minister, whose pro-U.S. policies received a mandate from the voters, was the son of a wealthy sake manufacturer who spent his youth as a university student at Kyoto drinking deeply of the pleasures of that famed geisha capital.

Like many sons of the rich, he chose government service as a career. He might have remained an obscure official if a rare disease of the skin had not forced him to resign his post in the tax office in Utsunomiya in 1932.

Dressed in the white clothes of a pilgrim, and accompanied by his devout mother, he made a long and painful tour of Buddhist temples on the island of Shikoku in search of the spiritual cure modern medicine could not provide.

Five years later he emerged well and healed. He attributed it to his faith in Buddhism, a faith that continues deep today.

He returned to ordinary life a serious, purposeful man who bore little resemblance to the playboy of his youth.

He became prime minister July 14, succeeding Nobusuke Kishi, who was forced to resign following his successful but bitterly opposed fight to push through the new defense treaty with the United States.

Recognizing that Kishi aroused hostility among the leftists and the general population by a general attitude of rigidity, Ikeda set about proving he could and would compromise if the opposition Socialists cooperated.

This approach won him new friends and helped channel away much of the resentment felt against the Conservatives under Kishi's helm.

Officer Kills Man In Burglary Try

TROY, Ohio (AP) — A burglar was shot and killed Sunday by the police chief of nearby Covington, sheriff's deputies report.

The Miami County coroner's office ruled the death of Ralph R. Reuber, 31, of Dayton, justifiable homicide.

Police Chief Norman Miller shot Reuber in the eye as the latter was in the process of burglarizing Benner's Supermarket on the outskirts of Covington, deputies said.

Investigators said the police chief fired after Reuber tried to shoot him with a gun that turned out to be empty. Reuber found the gun in the store office.

Miller went to the supermarket when a burglar alarm sounded in the police station.

Deputies said Reuber was arrested in September 1959 for forcible entry into a warehouse in Piqua, but was placed on probation.

Priest Demands 'Penance' From San Juan Mayor

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The Roman Catholic Woman mayor of San Juan, Felisa de Gauthier, was ordered by her pastor to do public penance before she can receive Communion because of the way she voted Nov. 8.

The Rev. Thomas Maisonet, pastor of San Juan Cathedral, said in an interview between Masses Sunday she must publicly repent by radio, television or newspaper to receive the church sacrament.

The mayor did not attend any of the five Masses at the cathedral Sunday. She was reported to have spent the weekend at her beach cottage in Vega Baja and to have received Communion at its church. She made no public comment on Father Maisonet's demand that she do public penance.

Dona Felisa is a leading member of the Popular Democratic party opposed by Puerto Rico's Roman Catholic bishops as "un-Christian." Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, head of the party, was re-elected by a 58 per cent majority and its members retained control of the legislature, despite the bishops' warning that supporting them would be considered a sin.

The mayor has maintained the church's intervention in politics unjustified. She vowed after the election to take Communion at the cathedral without confessing her vote for Munoz Marin, as Father Maisonet insisted was necessary.

Aided And Abetted By Demagogues

A prominent member of the United States Senate is deeply involved in the riots against token integration in New Orleans schools. Sen. Russell B. Long, brother of the late Huey Long, and one of Washington's influential legislators, has been rabble-rousing in Baton Rouge. Sen. Long added this trenchant bit of statesmanship to the flames of hatred and violence that are burning away the self-respect of New Orleans — that he is in favor of impeaching the U.S. Supreme Court for its ruling that states must not abridge the rights of Negro citizens.

This would be bad enough for any American to say at a time when the United States is trying to earn the confidence of the colored races. But Sen. Long is not just any American. He is a member of the U.S. Senate from Louisiana. He is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Northerners have been told that many educated southerners are resentful of the way the South is misrepresented and manhandled by its "white trash" minority and politicians who make a career of race-baiting. Many southern newspapers, including those published in New Orleans, protest against what they call the undue influence exerted by the kind of southerners described as "slack-jawed."

In New Orleans, a handful of undisciplined children, egged on by an unruly mob of adults, are causing the trouble. This clamorous minority is giving the city the same kind of worldwide notoriety that made Little Rock, Ark., infamous. Yet, the minority is backed by Louisiana politicians—governor, state legislators and at least one U.S. Senator.

It is a cruel and uncalled for setback to the aspirations of decent people when senators add their voices to the screams of southern "slack jaws." When the Senate convenes next January, a few words from Russell B. Long of Louisiana on how he has been keeping his oath to uphold the Constitution would be in order.

Will Sen. Long demand the impeachment of the U.S. Supreme Court for doing what he clearly failed to do at a critical juncture last November — uphold the Constitution of the United States?

Road Work

The city's financial situation being what it is, the weekend announcement that the new freeway will be constructed without additional money from this end came as a welcome surprise.

Abundant and deserving praise already has been directed to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Engineer George S. Bloomgren who negotiated with the State Highway Department for nearly a year relative to final financial plans for the project. It requires a lot of mileage on present roads to get things rolling on a new one.

Sharing in the praise rightfully are the Highway Department and the county commissioners, who cooperated to the fullest in cutting the city's share of the expense.

Also deserving of the greatest commendation are those who were in on the project from the very beginning and who did everything in their power to get things under way before the present administration took over.

A saving of some $500,000 is not to be taken lightly. The Review adds its "well done" to those who have been part of the freeway program from its inception up to the present.

Rising Red Economy Means Trouble

By William L. Ryan

sufficient time, this pressure will begin to change the structure of Soviet Society.

But they add a word of warning: The hierarchy would rather slow down the rate of Soviet growth deliberately than take chances with reforms which might bring about dangerous change. The party leadership does not want its all-pervading influence over Soviet life to be weakened.

And even if the Soviet economic growth rate were slowed to half what it is now, in the words of one competent observer of the Moscow scene, the Communists would "still have enough to be a source of interminable trouble to us whenever and wherever they chose."

Lines Drawn For 1964

By Jay G. Hayden

Never before within memory has a party, defeated in a presidential election, drawn sides for the next try so swiftly as in the present case.

And Republican division, in that regard, is three ways.

First, Richard M. Nixon, aged 48 next Jan. 9, appears in the race again in 1964 up to the hilt, if for no other reason than that he scored a virtual tie in popular votes against the Democratic winner, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Second, there is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who tried for this year's presidential nomination but gave up the ghost when it became apparent that Nixon had virtually all the party's professional on his side.

Last but not least is Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, archconservative and, as such, perhaps, peculiarly representative of rural America which, more than any other element, came within an ace of upsetting Sen. Kennedy's apple cart.

AMONG THOSE THREE Goldwater alone is in office up to and including the 1964 election. Elected in 1958, his present senatorial term runs until January, 1965.

If he is to remain a contender Rockefeller must win re-election to his present office in 1962.

Because he must see Rockefeller as his main opponent, Nixon is under almost as great compulsion to submit his popularity to a home test by offering himself for office in California in 1964.

Taking on the present Democratic governor of that state, Edmund (Pat) Brown, would seem Nixon's best bet. Or he might persuade Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, a former state controller, to run for governor, thus throwing open the Senate seat which Nixon occupied when he was nominated for vice president.

As to the necessity for keeping vote-getting appeal fresh as a prerequisite for running for office, Harold E. Stassen is a case in point. Elected governor of Minnesota in three successive bienniums, 1938, 1940, and 1942, Stassen resigned in 1943, still under 36, to serve through the war as naval captain and personal aide to World War II's "fightingest" admiral, W. F. Halsey. He was called home by President Roosevelt in the spring of 1945 to sit as one of three Republican members of the American delegation that joined in creating the United Nations.

Before he took off his Navy uniform, Stassen started running for presidential nomination in 1948. Friends warned that he was moving too fast, urging that his first step should be to go back to Minnesota and run for either governor or senator — both open for grabs in 1946.

These counselors argued that no person can run for president for several years without talking himself to death.

STASSEN, however, persisted in his presidential quest, continued right up to this moment without ever running even close.

An opposite case was Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who got himself elected governor before making his second try for the presi-

Inevitable Action

By David Lawrence

U.S. Move In Caribbean Was Expected

It was inevitable that immediately after the presidential election some action would be taken with respect to Communist-Directed military operations in this hemisphere.

The orders issued by President Eisenhower to the U.S. Navy to assist the governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua are in line with his-teric principles of international law. It is significant that the two governments requested the military aid.

It is important to note the exact language of the White House announcement, which was as follows:

"In response to the request of the governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua, surface and air units of the U.S. Navy are in a position in which they could assist these governments, should it become necessary, to seek out and prevent intervention on the part of Communist-directed elements in the internal affairs of Guatemala and Nicaragua through the landing of armed forces or supplies from abroad."

The phrase "Communist-directed elements" justifies the application of the principle of the Monroe Doctrine, which proclaims American purpose to resist any attempt by a European power to add territory by conquest in this hemisphere.

PRESUMABLY this action means that ships at sea or airplanes carrying armed forces or supplies will be intercepted before they can land on the coasts of either Guatemala or Nicaragua.

Actually, the Communists are not likely to make any such attempt now that they know there will be resistance by the United States.

The Organization of American States in recent years has accepted and further strengthened the principle of the Monroe Doctrine but each nation may at any time on its own request aid from a sister nation to ward off an invasion.

What Guatemala and Nicaragua have done is in conformity with established principles of law in this hemisphere.

Everybody knows that Cuba is the point of origin of forces hostile to other Central American republics, so it is likely that a close watch will be maintained by the U.S. Navy's airplanes on any vessels or planes which leave Cuban shores for any destination in neighboring countries.

This kind of surveillance will gradually increase and could conceivably mean the stoppage and search of vessels of any other country whose cargoes or passengers are destined for ports in Nicaragua or Guatemala.

The incident is more important, however, in a broader sense. It means that American patience with Castro's antics is about exhausted and that from now on his regime will be held to a strict accountability for any military movements that threaten the internal peace of other countries.

THE DECISION to go ahead with military measures in Latin America was one that would have caused embarrassment if taken during the recent political campaign. It would have been charged by the Democrats that the Republican administration was creating a "crisis" in order to influence votes.

Conversely, the Republicans were cautious lest they precipitate some kind of armed conflict which would spoil their record of avoiding military operations.

The period of self-imposed restraint now seems to be over. Whether the Nicaraguan or Guatemalan governments held off their requests for help until after the Nov. 8 election in the United States, or whether the crisis itself didn't develop till the last few days, is not known at this writing.

What is known is that the Washington government has ordered military action to stop Castro and his lieutenants from seizing, in behalf of communism, any other Latin American countries.

What has been announced as a policy in the Caribbean applies equally to any similar requests that may come hereafter from South American countries.

But what of Cuba itself? The day is not far distant when the United States, acting in accordance with accepted principles of international law, may have to land troops to take possession of American properties in Cuba seized by the Castro government.

While the Havana authorities have promised compensation, the bonds they offer in payment are worthless. The United States has a right to recapture the properties of its own citizens and hold them until such time as satisfactory arrangements are made to pay for them.

THE BROADER QUESTION of how such a step will be received by the Cuban people—that is, whether it will be misinterpreted as an alleged American interference with the rights of the Cuban government, which has been recognized as a legitimate government by the United States—is one that will be debated before any decision is reached.

If the Castro government persists in its confiscatory policies, it seems certain that a formal rupture in diplomatic relations will ensue. European and Latin American countries would then be asked similarly to withdraw diplomatic recognition of the Havana government.

This would indicate to the people of Cuba that their present government no longer has the confidence of the other governments of the free world.

No Suburbs

By Truman Twill

A word that doesn't mean anything, although it's still used as if it did, is "suburbs."

When all the other worn-out words and ideas, like "working class" and the theory that Negroes are more interested in civil rights than wages are thrown overboard, we should get rid of "suburbs."

Suburbs used to be residential districts on the outskirts of cities. They lay in the wide-open spaces, beyond the end of the street car line, or spread out on both sides of the interurban lines that once connected cities.

People went to live in the suburbs because they wanted peace and quiet. They wanted to raise vegetables in the back yard, fuss with flowers and keep a dog. There was a "suburban set." Its trademark was money—plenty of money.

That's not the trademark of the people who live beyond the city limits any more. Some of them have money. Most have mortgages. But today they are a cross-section of the population, not a distinguishable and certainly not a distinguished minority.

In city after city across the land, there now are more people living in the part of the city that has not been incorporated than there are living in the part that has been incorporated. But to say that the former are living in the suburbs and the others are living in the city is silly.

There are no suburbs any more. There are cities, satellite cities, unincorporated urban areas and the far countryside. The latter might be defined accurately as the countryside far enough so that a hunter firing a gun is not in imminent danger of breaking the glass in the windows of a split-level.

Everything else is part of the "urban sprawl," as sociologists call it. But what once could be described as "suburbs" has become hard to find. Not only are there residences outside city limits these days but heavy and light industries, shopping centers, cultural centers, experimental laboratories, recreation projects, hospitals and all the widely assorted gear of urban living, from dentists to pet hospitals.

It would be a first-rate idea to ditch the word "suburbs." It has ceased to convey meaning to those who hear it. It has no meaning, either, for those who speak it and write it.

All people who are part of the urban sprawl live in cities—either the incorporated part or the unincorporated part. Or perhaps they live in an urban satellites, like the many dozens of satellites that surround New York and London. Would these people say they lived somewhere else, if you asked them? Would they go into some rapid routine about living in a suburb or some incorporated place outside the main city?

Of course they wouldn't. No one goes into such meaningless detail if he is more than 50 miles from home. It wouldn't mean anything. It doesn't mean anything at home, either.

We live in the cities where we live—nowhere else.

Skip the suburban nonsense. There is no such thing any more as outlying, residential areas. When you get that far, you're on the outskirts of the next city.

American women may worry about their calories, but it's the American male whose waistline is ballooning. The average American man today, according to one recent survey, tips the scales at three to five pounds more than he did 30 years ago. On the other hand, the ever-slimming American female now weighs between one and five pounds less than did her feminine counterpart of 1930.

Heading For The Exits Early

There will be a rush to the political exits from now until the end of the year, as appointive officials of the Eisenhower administration try to beat the crowd that will be leaving on Inauguration Day in January.

This is one of the soft places of public procedure in the United States. Most of the positions thus vacated will be left vacant until the new administration takes over the executive department.

Worst of all, there is a paralysis of policymaking in all appointive positions pending the appointment of new officials. Even the vital task of budget-making, which falls to the outgoing administration, cannot be performed with any real authority. The outgoing executive's budget is subject to the policies of the incoming executive. This was true in the case of Harry Truman's budget submitted in 1953 before Dwight Eisenhower took office. It will be true of the Eisenhower budget submitted in 1961 before John Kennedy takes office.

The 20th amendment, which moved Inauguration Day forward from March to January, was a great improvement. It eliminated the "lame duck" from legislative action. But it still does not provide for an orderly transfer of responsibility in the executive department. Perhaps this never can be done.

For the present, there is nothing to stop the hurried exit of appointive officials, once they have learned that their days are numbered. The earlier they leave, the better are their chances to make a connection in private employment.

Frank Retires

It will seem strange not to find Frank Robinson at his desk in the city water department.

For more than 44 years he has been directing the activities of one of the municipality's most important offices. The direction has been sound and sensible. Frank can look back with pride on the accomplishments that have taken place while he was at the helm.

His successor will have a big pair of shoes to fill.

Another Gigantic Break-Through?

There is no end to astonishing information that doesn't astonish us. Atop the threadbare discovery by pollsters in the recent ruckus that Americans tend to vote the way they usually have voted in the past is a report by a spokesman for a drug supplies that the vast majority of Americans get along without tranquilizers.

Only one in 20 new prescriptions for private patients, says the spokesman, is for a tranquilizer, and in many of these cases the stuff is for discomforts that have nothing to do with mental condition, such as nausea and post-operative restlessness.

This hits us with the dull, thudding impact of a wet bun, because no question about tranquilizers had been brought up in our phlegmatic circle. These are normal people who fly off the handle and go off the deep end with the regularity of cuckoo clocks. Their hands shake and their eyes get glassy. They turn gray with fatigue and crimson with anger. They take ulcer pills and worry about hypertension. But they do not take tranquilizers. Why should they?

It always has been their idea that what they were doing was a way of life, like incurring cuts, contusions, abrasions and sprains if you were a professional football player. Obviously, we must move in a dull set, not hep to the miracles of science.

But on the other hand, we must be among the 19 out of 20 prescription fillers who don't get tranquilized and among the 1,999 out of 2,000 who haven't had any prescriptions filled lately, except maybe at the Happy Landings Bar & Grill, where you can buy tranquilizers without a prescription.

Demand And Supply

By Richard Spong

An acute shortage of American medical school graduates is responsible for the great influx of foreign interns and resident physicians in recent years. These foreign-trained men are in great demand, particularly in small, non-teaching hospitals which cannot compete successfully for the limited supply of American medical school graduates.

American medical schools graduate fewer than 7,000 doctors each year, yet American hospitals try to fill 11,500 internships a year. One answer has been to go abroad; many smaller hospitals have advertised overseas for personnel.

The number of foreign-trained physicians granted licenses to practice in this country rose from 458 in 1950 to 1,316 in 1958. An estimated 400 of those licensed two years ago, it should be pointed out, were American citizens who had been trained abroad. Nevertheless, the foreign-trained group constituted 17 per cent of the nation's new licenses.

This influx raised fears about the skills of the foreign-trained doctors and the quality of service in hospitals which employ them. So two years ago the American Medical Association, American Hospital Association, Association of American Medical Colleges, and Federation of State Medical Boards established the Educational Council for Foreign Medical Graduates.

The council twice a year runs tests overseas for candidates for internships and residencies in American hospitals. It was decided at the same time to apply the same standards to foreign-trained personnel already serving in American hospitals.

To date about 2,400 of some 8,700 foreign interns and residents here have failed the tests.

Hospitals employing men who failed the test now have a choice of removing them by Dec. 1, demoting them to lesser positions, or keeping them in their present jobs at the risk of losing accreditation. State Department regulations do not permit issuance of visas to graduates who have not made arrangements for training with an accredited hospital. So those who are here on student visas, as against permanent immigrant visas, as most of them are, will have to return home.

Meantime, the State Department and the Council are trying to work out a compromise, particularly in hardship cases. The prospect that an adjustment will be made is improved by the real need of the hospitals and a feeling in some quarters that the tests should not have been administered retroactively to doctors already on the job. Many in the medical profession think the tests were so tough that American-trained doctors would have failed in about the same ratio.

Jean Madeira Sings For 800 At Opening Civic Music Event

By CLARA HALL

Jean Madeira, the raven haired beauty of the Metropolitan Opera Co. captured her audience with little effort at the opening concert of the Civic Music Association Sunday afternoon at Westgate School auditorium. Approximately 800 attended.

She was accompanied by her husband, Francis Madeira, conductor of the Rhode Island Philharmonic and professor of music at Brown University in Providence, R. I. Gowned in red brocade taffeta, she remarked that two weeks ago she was singing in Los Angeles and last Sunday she appeared in Chicago. The couple is on their way to Providence to spend the Thanksgiving holiday at home.

The program went at a swift pace, as most of the internationally famed contralto's numbers were quick and expressive. Congenially glowed between the husband and wife team as she remarked in her deep, throaty voice: "We just love to make music."

Her renditions of the arias from Handel's opera "Berenice" and "Serse" were very effective and haunting. The exotic prima donna's rich voice flowed vibrantly through several numbers of Brahms. She gave a dramatic version of an aria from "Il Traviatore," one of her favorite operas.

Madeira displayed his versatility at the piano with a wide range of solo numbers including a novelty selection before which he said "All the wrong sounding notes were right." Following his performance, Miss Madeira blithely stated: "He always steals the show."

Her electrifying version of "Carmen" met all the expectations of previous publicity; she was sultry and provocative.

Miss Madeira included the hymns, "I Wonder as I Wander," arranged by John Jacob Niles, and "Ride On, King Jesus," by Hall Johnson. She also sang several Negro spirituals and a humorous version of "I Hate Music."

In her encores, the pride of the Vienna State Opera Co. sang other arias from "Carmen" and accompanied herself in another number. Her dark, expressive eyes, literally played with the audience as she interpreted a group of Spanish folk songs.

The artists were introduced by Ernest Lowe, president of the association, who expressed his appreciation to Mrs. William Malkin, secretary for many years, and Paul Blair, instrumental in the organizing and continuance of the group. Blair presented Miss Madeira with an arm bouquet of white orchids.

Members of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Male Chorus were ushers. The next concert will be Jan. 14, when the Columbus Boys Choir will appear.

West Virginia Pastor Called To Hanoverton

HANOVERTON—The Rev. John Borter of Terra Alta, W. Va., accepted a call as minister of the Presbyterian Church here after preaching a trial sermon Sunday.

The call is subject to formal approval by the Mahoning Presbytery, of which the Hanoverton church is a member.

The Rev. Bruce E. Milligan, pastor of the First church in Salem, served as moderator for the congregational meeting following the morning worship.

Rev. Borter, 26, is serving his first pastorate at Terra Alta. A graduate of Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh, he is married and the father of a son and daughter.

Man Reported Serious In Township Wounding

Kenner Keith Smith, 29, of Midland View, Ohio Township, is in "serious" condition today at Rochester General Hospital with a gunshot wound in the left chest.

He was shot with a .22 caliber pistol Saturday about 11:15 p. m. at his home. The shot wound may have been self-inflicted, authorities said. He was admitted to City Hospital Saturday at 11:55 p. m. and later transferred to the Rochester Hospital.

Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township constable, who investigated said details of the shooting are not known since Smith's condition prevented questioning.

2nd Man Arrested For TV Set Theft

Hearings for two Warren men, arrested for the theft of a television set from a Dresden Ave. appliance store Friday afternoon, were continued today in Municipal Court.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff set the hearings for Friday at 9:30 a. m. for Henry Clay Bailey and Bobby Borden. He fixed bond at $1,000 each.

Charges against the pair were filed by Sam Lako, manager of the Central Appliance Co., 628 Dresden Ave., who alleged they, along with a companion still at large, stole the portable set valued at $150.

Lako said three men entered the store late Friday morning and Bailey pretended he was interested in purchasing some used furniture. While he was in the rear storeroom with Bailey, the other two loaded the set into a station wagon, Lako said.

He detained Bailey but his companions drove away in a station wagon, Borden was arrested Saturday in Warren and returned to jail here by Capt. Robert Pyle and Patrolman Paul Carter.

Fare Hike Slated On LA Bus Lines

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The transit strike that snarled Los Angeles' traffic and jammed its freeways is over, but the commuter's worries aren't.

The 400,000 persons who daily ride the Metropolitan Transit Authority's buses and streetcars may have to pick up the tab—in the form of increased fares—as a result of the settlement.

For five days the commuters—spread over a four-county area the size of Maryland and Delaware—had no bus or streetcar transportation because of a strike by 900 MTA mechanics.

Sunday both sides—the MTA, a public agency, and the Amalgamated Transportation Union—agreed to a new 15-month contract which provides higher wages, improved working conditions and prospects for a pension plan.

The union voted 451 to 73 to accept the agreement. It will raise the pay of top-scale mechanics from $2.61 an hour to $3 an hour by July 2. The union said the raises will range from 46 cents to 64 cents an hour in wages and other benefits.

LONDON (AP) — The British Broadcasting Corp. said today it was negotiating with Vatican officials for Pope John XXIII to appear on its television screens on Dec. 1.

Mayor In Italy Chased By Ballot On Clothes Issue

TORRI BENACO, Italy (AP)—The puritanical mayor who tried to chase scantily clad foreign tourists out of this resort on the shore of Lake Garda has been chased himself—out of office.

The new mayor says he takes a more liberal view of how vacationers may dress.

Mayor Gino Barbieri was tossed out after a heated local election campaign in which tourists' dress was the main issue in this community of 4,000 near Verona.

It began last summer when Barbieri ordered the police to close several privately owned lakeside tourist camp sites, charging the tourists dressed in an indecent manner.

The opposition group claimed the village had suffered a heavy financial loss from the departure of the campers. Souvenir shops put placards in their windows saying, "This shop has been damaged by Mayor Barbieri."

The Liberals won at the polls by an overwhelming majority. The new independent mayor, Igino Bonetti, promised he would reopen the tent cities come spring.

Newell Girl, Chester Man Wed In Church Ceremony

At a double ring ceremony, Miss Sharon Marie Haddox, daughter of Mrs. Maude Boyles of Grant St., Newell, and John R. Haddox of East Liverpool, became the bride of William Roy Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parsons, 172 Pennsylvania Ave., Chester, Nov. 12 at 7:30 o'clock at the First Christian Church in Chester, which also marked the golden wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melott of Orin Ave., Chester.

Earliss Gleaton, minister, performed the ceremony before an altar banked with palms, fugie mums and seven-branched candelabra.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her grandfather, Raymond Haddox of Newell. She appeared in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was designed with a sabrina neckline with capped sleeves. Her bouffant skirt featured a lace panel extending to the hemline. She wore long white tulle mitts.

Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion fell into soft folds from a tiara of rhinestones. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She observed the familiar wedding traditions, including a sixpence in her shoe, a gift of Diana Davis, a friend of the bride. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations and tiny yellow rosebuds with matching streamers.

Miss Susan Logston, classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow crystal-ette taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves and a bouffant skirt with matching Dior bow for her headpiece.

The bridesmaids were Miss Ellen Broomhall and Miss Dianne Robinson. They were attired in gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses surrounded by carnations with matching streamers. Their jewelry was two strand pearl necklaces with matching earrings, gifts of the bride.

Richard M. Parsons served as best man for his brother, Jerry Allison and Gary Daugherty were ushers.

The mother of the bride was attired in a winter white lace dress with periwinkle blue accessories and a corsage of blue and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a street-length dress of Wedgewood blue with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Memorial Hall of the church. A four-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow flowers was served.

Plans were completed to prepare families at a meeting of the Willing Workers of Pleasant Heights United Brethren in Christ Church Friday night at the home of Mrs. Grace Frazier of Lisbon St.

The meeting opened with the group singing "He Holds My Hand." Devotions were led by Mrs. Carrie Watkins, teacher, who used scriptures taken from Psa. 66.

Various projects were discussed during the business session conducted by Charles Barnhart, president.

Lunch was served 13 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Donald Scott, a guest. Mrs. Lillian Allen also was a guest.

Aides were Misses Janice and Barbara Parsons, Connie Barcus and Pamela Melott and Mrs. Sarah Melott, Mrs. Audrey Killian, Mrs. Jane Fink, Mrs. Blaine Allison and Mrs. Alvin DeBee.

The couple is on a honeymoon trip in Ohio. For traveling, the bride wore an orchid and moss green wool suit with moss green accessories and the rose corsage from her bridal outfit.

The bride attended Wells High School in Newell. Her husband was graduated from Chester High School with the class of 1960 and is employed by the American Vitrified Products Co.

Out-of-town guests were from Bellaire, Cleveland, Columbus, Huntington, Morgantown, Wells, Pughstown, Newell and East Liverpool.

Recount Due Recheck

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Municipal officials, bemoaning the "fact" Portsmouth lost 3,388 people between 1950 and 1960 according to the 1960 census, have been cheered somewhat because a federal census recount has given 1,200 people back to the city. George T. Meholick says the city still plans its own count, to be taken by volunteer workers. Meholick said the census bureau notified him that the original figure of 33,410 in the 1960 count has been increased to 34,637.

Hancock Takes Applications On Aged's Medical Assistance

Applications for medical assistance for the aged are being received by officials in the Hancock County Department of Public Assistance in New Cumberland.

Miss Adda Hindman, director, said the applications may be made by a spouse, son or daughter or a relative of the applicant in cases when he is unable to appear at the office.

In some instances, the DPA workers receive the information by visiting homes.

"An individual may make application while he is well, and not in need of medical assistance," Miss Hindman said. "He also may make application immediately after medical care has begun, she added.

The program is not designed for those afflicted with chronic illnesses, but is set up to meet emergency medical needs with the exception of payment of drugs for at least six specific illnesses.

The director listed them as diabetes, epilepsy, primary anemia, terminal cancer, malignant tumors and certain heart and circulatory diseases.

The department has a complete list of diseases or illnesses which make the applicant ineligible for payments, and names of drugs considered for payment.

The DPA office is in the downstairs of the County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Information also may be obtained from Mrs. Ila Snyder who is in her office in the Aaron Building in Newell Thursdays from 1 to 4 p. m. Doris Humes has been employed as her secretary.

DiSalle To Air Pay Extension

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Micahel V. DiSalle will tell legislative leaders Tuesday why he feels a special session to extend unemployment benefit payments is justified.

"I will answer their questions on the situation," DiSalle told newsmen today.

The governor called in Sen. Frank W. King, D-Lucas, and House Speaker James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, majority leaders, and minority leaders Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R - Athens, and Rep. Roger Cloud, R-Logan.

Cloud last week posed a series of questions about unemployment and a special session that he said Republican legislators would want answered.

DiSalle has said he would call special session soon to extend jobless benefits payments from 26 to 39 weeks if assured of enough Republican support to make it effective immediately as an emergency.

Republican spokesmen have questioned the need for an emergency because the next regular session of the legislature convenes Jan. 2. Democrats now are in control of the legislature but Republicans will dominate the next session.

The governor said a special session could be convened within a week if called.

Congolese Attack U.S. Foursome In Mishap

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A crowd of knife-wielding Congolese Sunday fell upon three American men and a woman whose car accidentally killed a Negro cyclist. Two of the Americans were wounded.

Chief Warrant Officer Clyde St. Lawrence of New Bedford, Mass., a member of the military attaché's staff at the U.S. Embassy, was stabbed three times as he ran from the car he had been driving.

Frank Carlucci of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., political officer at the embassy, stayed at the scene so the others could get away. He was stabbed in the back and beaten before he jumped aboard a passing bus.

U.S. military attaché Lt. Col. Edward Dannemiller and his wife pushed through the crowd unhurt while it went after St. Lawrence. The latter was picked up by a U.S. vice consul, Alison Palmer of Amityville, Long Island, N.Y., who happened to be passing in her car.

St. Lawrence was taken to Lovanium Hospital and given a blood transfusion. His condition was described as not serious. Carlucci's wound required three stitches.

The four Americans were en route to Leopoldville's airport to see off Deputy Undersecretary of State Loy W. Henderson, leaving after a two-day visit.

Carlucci said the cyclist crossed the road in front of them, then turned back as they swerved to miss him, putting himself directly in the path of the car.

The five independents elected are considered in the conservative camp.

With 96 per cent of the popular vote tabulated, the Liberal Democrats had 22,106,738 or 57.8 per cent; the Socialists 10,468,245 for 27.4 per cent; Democratic Socialists 3,319,026 or 8.7 per cent; Communists 1,098,687 for 2.9 per cent; minor parties 134,311 for 0.3 per cent and the independents 1,096,994 for 2.9 per cent.

While the outcome gave Ikeda and his Liberal Democrats a solid victory, they failed in their announced aim of boosting their House strength to 312. That would have given them the two-thirds majority needed in the 467-member house to carry out long-range plans for amending the constitution to strengthen the status of the army and the emperor.

Last month Ikeda dissolved the old Parliament, in which his party held 283 seats, and asked the voters to return more than 300 Liberal Democrats to the ruling lower house.

U.S., Germany Launch Economic Conference

BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States and West Germany opened economic talks today amid indications they ran into difficulties right at the outset.

The first session lasted an hour longer than scheduled.

The United States is pressing prosperous West Germany to contribute more toward foreign aid and Western defense costs to help reduce the drain on U.S. dollar and gold reserves.

The initial session began at 9 a.m. It was to last just 30 minutes. The session broke up at 10:30.

The negotiators wore serious expressions as they posed silently for photographs.

Man Has King-Size Jade On Front Lawn

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP) — Claude D. Fike has a 3½ to 4 ton boulder sitting on his front lawn. But it's not like any other boulder — it's Wyoming jade.

Fike said the rock may be the largest single piece of jade ever taken from the earth. He said much of the boulder is probably of gem value, but he's not going to cut it up.

"The way I see it," he said, "the value of this piece is in its size. It would be a shame to cut it up." Fike, a rockhound and retired farmer, ran across the find on Green Mountain near Lander, Wyo.

Kennedy Aims Control Shift With Clifford

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The big task of shifting government control from the Eisenhower administration to the new Democratic regime gets President-elect John F. Kennedy's personal attention today.

Kennedy arranged to confer most of the day at his Atlantic shore home with Clark Clifford, his chief liaison man with the outgoing Republicans.

Clifford, who served as special counsel to President Harry S. Truman, was picked by Kennedy shortly after his nomination last July to make a study of the problems of transition from one administration to another.

Clifford had the study well under way when Kennedy won the Nov. 8 election. Since then, Clifford has conferred twice with President Eisenhower's chief aide, Wilton B. Parsons.

These conferences and the Kennedy-Clifford talks today will be climaxed soon by a meeting of the president-elect and Eisenhower for a top level discussion of the change-over.

Sitting in with Kennedy and Clifford for at least part of the talks will be Prof. Richard Neustadt of Columbia University. Neustadt is a specialist on the problems of government transition.

From his two advisers Kennedy will get a list of some 150 top positions for which he will be choosing appointees between now and his inauguration Jan. 20, or immediately thereafter. Hundreds of lesser jobs also must be filled.

Over the weekend Kennedy divided his time between recreation and conferences dealing with reorganization of the Defense Department and discussion of the tense situation in the Caribbean area.

His house guests were two Democratic senators, Stuart Symington of Missouri and George Smathers of Florida.

Symington, secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, is head of a Kennedy study committee on Pentagon reorganization. Mentioned frequently as a Kennedy choice for secretary of defense, Symington said he had told the president-elect he feels he can be of more help to the new administration by staying in the Senate.

Suspended Term Given Man For Fraud Charge

A Pleasant Heights man, charged with defrauding a jail companion of $3, was given a suspended 10-day jail term today after pleading guilty before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Calvin E. Cramer, who admitted "it was a little error on my part," was given the suspended sentence on an affidavit filed by Wayne E. Defenbaugh of E. 3rd St., now serving a jail term for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Cramer told Judge Chertoff he was in jail on suspicion of robbery. As he was being released Thursday, Defenbaugh gave him $3 to purchase some food.

Cramer said he was unable to return before visiting hours at the jail ended Thursday, and was arrested at his home Friday morning before he could secure the groceries and take them to the jail.

Judge Chertoff told Cramer he found his story "hard to believe," but suspended the jail term because he had been in jail since Friday morning.

Space Probe Fails In Try At Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

— An attempt to launch an unmanned space capsule failed today.

When the countdown reached zero, an escape tower shot into the sky leaving the Redstone booster rocket and the capsule on the pad.

The 15 1/2-foot tower shot straight up into low-hanging clouds and several seconds later plunged back onto the Cape.

The launching was to have been the first in the Project Mercury Redstone series. The purpose was to test the capsule in a space environment.

If success had been achieved, a chimpanzee was scheduled to ride a Redstone-powered capsule over an identical route within two months. Then if that was successful an astronaut was to take the same trip in February or March.

in the first U.S. man-in-space attempt.

Today's capsule was aimed to go 130 miles into space and drop in the Atlantic ocean 220 miles downrange. There was to be no attempt to put the capsule into orbit — the eventual goal of the man-in-space program.

Fifteen minutes after today's launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced:

"The escape rocket on a Project Mercury space craft ignited prematurely three seconds before a scheduled launching today. The escape tower landed approximately 2,000 feet west of the launch site."

Steel Stockpile May Take Dip

CLEVELAND (AP) — If steel production reaches no upturn the rest of the year, consumers' stockpiles will be down to nine million tons, the magazine Steel says.

This would be less than they had at the end of the 1959 strike, and market analysts hope steel users would have to start ordering as much metal as they're using. Said Steel:

"Probable result: Moderate gains for steel production and shipments during next year's first quarter."

Meanwhile the market remains dormant and the national production rate was off one-tenth of a point last week to 51.4 per cent of rated capacity.

Steel said that if the industry averages that production rate for the rest of the year, the 1960 annual output still can reach 100 million tons. That could be the sixth largest production year in the industry's history. But it pointed out that the goal cannot be reached if the mills shut down some furnaces and keep them down a while after the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

The magazine surveyed 7,450 metalworking plants and found that more than one-third of them plan new plants, additions or new equipment that would raise their capacity next year. The total increase is expected to be about 3.5 per cent, said Steel, noting that smaller plants were doing most of the expanding.

Concreting In Cold Weather Calls For Extra Precautions

COLUMBUS — Today, concrete structures can be built despite the freezing temperatures of winter. However, certain precautions must be taken.

The cost of construction will be increased somewhat by these required precautions and will vary with the amount of protection required.

The Portland Cement Association explains that the rate at which concrete hardens and gains strength is retarded by low temperatures and accelerated by high temperatures.

Best results are obtained when the temperature of the concrete is about 70 degrees when placed in the forms, the association says. Ready-mixed concrete can be delivered at this temperature in most weather.

Never add salts, chemicals or other foreign materials to lower the freezing point of concrete. Any appreciable lowering of the freezing point with these materials would seriously reduce the strength of the concrete.

Small amounts of calcium chloride (2 pounds per sack of cement) may be used to accelerate the hardening of the concrete. Use of high-early-strength cement or an additional amount of cement in the mix also will hasten the setting time.

Before placing the concrete, all frost, ice and snow should be removed from the forms. If the concrete is to come in contact with the ground, the ground must not be frozen.

If the concrete is placed on frozen ground, settling and damage will occur when the ground thaws. If possible, it is best to dig any trenches before freezing and cover with straw until the concrete is to be placed.

After the concrete has been placed, care must be taken to prevent freezing. Flat work can be protected with heavy, waterproof paper and 10 to 12 inches of hay or straw.

Walls and other structural members must be enclosed with canvas and kept warm. Do not remove forms until the concrete has had sufficient time to harden properly. Normally concrete must be maintained at temperatures of 50 degrees or higher for a period of five days after placing. However, the use of high-early-strength concrete will reduce this period.

Salamanders or other space heaters used near newly-placed concrete must be adequately vented. If this is not done carbon dioxide from the heater fumes will combine with cement chemicals and prevent hardening of the cement paste. This produces dusting and flaking on the surface of the concrete.

Familiarity with proper methods of placing concrete in cold weather can be very beneficial. Such knowledge can help eliminate delays in construction due to adverse weather conditions. Time usually considered off-season can be used to speed construction.

Minor Triumphs Boost Will Power

Dieters, never underestimate the power of each single "No, thank you." That elusive quality known as will power is strengthened with exercise. Think of will power as a long, strong cable braided from the fibers of many minor triumphs.

It is morale-building to realize that refusing the sweet roll at breakfast and the doughnut at the coffee break, then turning down rich dessert at dinner are separate victories, all adding up to — success.

You gained the excess weight by these small increments of food that separately seemed insignificant. The converse is true also and you can lose by this same principle. Thinking this way puts a new light on dieting. Calorie cutting is not so much a matter of self-denial as it is simple arithmetic.

TRY TO PUT your finger on the weak spots on your daily eating pattern. Maybe you're a bun-muncher. If you order in a restaurant and regularly polish off a couple of rolls and a pat of butter before the meal is served, an extra 300 calories are added.

You do not need two rolls as an appetizer. Take the newspaper along — ask the waitress not to place the bread tray on the table.

Are you a taster? One dieter decided to find out just how much she did "taste" while preparing dinner. She placed a bowl on the counter, and every time she started to taste, she put the spoonful in a bowl. By the time dinner was ready, the bowl was full! That eye-opener proved the turning point. She not only lost weight, but enjoyed her dinner.

Do trimmings boost the calorie score too high? An overweight, who like to spread gravy gloriously over the whole plate, followed the plan of skimming off the fat before making gravy. Also she decided to try using just two tablespoons of gravy. This small change made a difference on the scales.

A reader put to the test your dietitian's promise that turning down six desserts consecutively would help to break the dessert habit. It works!

NOT ONLY does this plan strengthen the habit of saying "no, thank you" to dessert, but on the physical score the craving diminishes. By this plan, you stop the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is creating the uncontrollable appetite.

It's electrifying to realize that each separate little "no" adds up to slimming victory!

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Hancock Wool Growers Reminded On Records

Hancock County wool growers who marketed lambs this fall were reminded today of the importance of keeping adequate records of their sales.

C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said these records are needed next spring for use in applying for payments under the wool program.

"I want to urge strongly," Herron said, "that growers get these fall sales records together now and either keep them in a safe place at home or file them in the county ASC office in New Cumberland."

Applications for payments on 1960-61 marketings must be filed by the end of next April, and may be filed any time before then, Herron said.

3 Cited For Gambling In Tuscarawas Raids

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—Charges were filed Sunday against three men arrested Saturday in Tuscarawas County gambling raids. They were released on bond.

John Cox, 38, of New Philadelphia, was charged with being a gambler and possession of gambling equipment. He was released under $2,000 bond.

County Prosecutor James S. Patrick said additional charges would be filed against the three men. Patrick and John W. Gleason, an investigator for Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, led the raids in which a large quantity of gambling equipment was seized.

Pugh And Mackall Honored At Chester Football Fete

Gary Pugh, the team's leading scorer, and tackle Bill Mackall were chosen as the outstanding back and lineman respectively when the Chester High football team was honored at the annual Mothers Club banquet Saturday night at the Chester Legion home with 120 attending.

'Tag Day' Nets $197 For Little Potters

A total of $197.53 was collected Saturday when the Little Potters League held a "tag day" in the downtown area. All proceeds will be used to operate two basketball leagues on the sixth and seventh grade level.

The names of Pugh and Mackall will be added to the list on a plaque in the school as the most valuable players in the 1960 season.

The award is made annually by the Student Council.

Pugh also was picked as the team's outstanding player and received an autographed football from head coach Dom Amedeo.

By Morgan, head football coach at Geneva College, was guest speaker and told the Chester gridders, "get your chins up; winning or losing isn't as important as how you recover mentally from the game."

Morgan, a 21-year veteran of the coaching game who has been at Geneva College for the past eight seasons, pointed out that "winning is the only way to judge, but in order to win you must give 100 per cent of yourself 100 per cent of the time."

"This applies not only in a game but in any profession you may undertake."

Morgan praised the fine performance of Bill Mayhew, a star at Chester last season, who saw action in every Geneva College game this season. Mayhew was a guest at the banquet.

Amedeo presented varsity letters to 15 players. Receiving letters were Pugh, Mackall, John Bickert, Carl Gillespie, Jim Coggrove, Jim Eberhart, Bill Yoakum, Charles Mullen, Mike Price, Albert Lyons, Don Reese, Blaine Pinney, Larry Jarvis, Bill Harper, Keith Sayres and Joe Price.

Thirteen seniors were presented with gold footballs purchased by the mothers' club.

Principal R. M. McFarland spoke briefly and presented the Student Council award to Pugh and Mackall.

Other guests who spoke were Dick Bryan, assistant football coach, and Max Tuttle, head basketball coach.

Miss Sara Thomas introduced her group of cheerleaders.

Trophies were given to Roy Cashdollar and Paul Jackson in recognition for their work.

Green Bay Is Kicked Around By LA

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Plucky Danny Villanueva, one of a family of 12 children, an ordinary college football player and a pro oversight finally signed by the Los Angeles Rams, has spent many of his 23 years seeking attention. Today the spotlight was shining in his face.

The rookie from New Mexico State, overlooked by many seasoned National Football League scouts, kicked four field goals Sunday. The last was a nine-yarder with 22 seconds left that beat Green Bay 33-31 and dealt the Packers' title chances a stunning, unexpected blow.

Villanueva, a 5-foot-11 200-pounder from Tucumcari, N.M., also booted key field goals of 23, 17 and 31 yards in the upset that pushed the Packers a full game behind Baltimore in the Western Division. The two-time champion Colts were idle.

Rookie Boots 4 Fielders

The Philadelphia Eagles took a commanding 1½-game lead in the Eastern Division by knocking off the runner-up New York Giants 17-10 in the first of their crucial back-to-back meetings.

Pittsburgh kayoed Cleveland's Eastern title hopes with a 14-10 victory over the Browns, but Chicago stayed within striking range in the Western sector with a 28-7 thumping of Detroit. St. Louis beat Washington 26-14 and San Francisco kept Dallas winless by the same score.

The Giants (5-2-1), who may have lost first-string halfback Frank Gifford with a concussion, took an early lead on Joe Morrison's one-yard plunge and Pat Summerall's 26-yard field goal. The Eagles tied it on a 35-yard scoring pitch from Norm Van Brooklyn to Tommy McDonald and Bobby Walston's 12-yard field goal.

Then Jim Carr picked up a fumble by New York's Mel Triplett with 2½ minutes left and stunned a Yankee Stadium crowd of 63,571 by rambling 36 yards for a touchdown.

The Browns (5-3) were beaten by the clock, winding up on the Pittsburgh 9 when time ran out after Tom Tracy's four-yard touchdown jaunt around end gave the Steelers (3-5-1) the lead with 2:15 left.

Willie Deneveall hauled in a 40-yard touchdown pitch from Zeke Bratkowski in the first period, then snagged a 74-yard heave from Ed Brown to give the Bears (4-3-1) an insurmountable lead against the Lions (3-5-1).

Johnny Roach bombed the Redskins (1-5-2) with touchdown aerials of 27, 7 and 37 yards to Sonny Randle, the Cards (5-4) standstill.

C. R. Roberts 20-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter proved the clincher for the 49ers (4-4), who received a four-field goal performance from Tommy Davis against hapless Dallas (0-9).

Vernon To Manage Washington Club

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's baseball baby has been provided with guardians of broad experience in Mickey Vernon and Ed Doherty.

The signing of Vernon as field manager and Doherty as general manager gave American League expansion plans a boost. But the other half of the double play—a move into Los Angeles—is still to be completed.

Club owners and league officials meet in New York Tuesday to award the Los Angeles franchise. They put off action last week after storm signals were raised by commissioner Ford Frick.

Frick hinted that the American League had better do business with Walter O'Malley, owner of the National League's Los Angeles Dodgers, before moving on to his lush acres. As a result, Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, is in Los Angeles to talk with O'Malley.

From a public relations standpoint, owners of the new Washington club scored heavily in their appointment of Vernon as field manager.

The lean, quiet Vernon, 42, was an idol of the fans when he won batting titles and played first base for the Washington Senators.

He wanted to return to Washington and he wanted to manage a major league team. E. R. (Pete) Quesada, head of the group that obtained the franchise after the old Senators transferred to Minneapolis-St. Paul, gave him the chance.

Quesada, the federal aviation administrator, announced Vernon had received a two-year contract as field manager and Doherty, president of the American Association, had signed for the same period as general manager.

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club will meet Tuesday night at 8 in the YMCA. Movies of the Potter-Alliance game will be screened by Coach Lou Venditti. Tickets will be sold for the dinner Nov. 25 in the Elks Club honoring Bernie Allen of Purdue. Ralph Musuraca, president, will preside.

He is Bob DeMoss, Purdue varsity backfield coach, who has served in this capacity for the past 11 seasons.

DeMoss was an outstanding quarterback himself while at Purdue. He was rated one of the nation's most brilliant forward passers during ing a four-year collegiate career that ended with the 1948 season.

His coaching career started as a freshman assistant at Purdue in 1950. He served as head freshman coach for four years prior to being promoted to the varsity staff in the spring of 1956.

He primarily coaches the Boilermaker backs.

DeMoss, who had a brief fling at professional football in 1949, earned four letters as a quarterback on the Purdue teams from 1945 to 1948. In the four-year period he completed 192 passes in 423 attempts for a net gain of 2,790 yards and a .453 completion average.

The Purdue assistant played high school football at Dayton, Ky., where he was an outstanding star in both football and basketball.

Friday night's program will get under way at 8:15. DeMoss will screen movies of the Ohio State-Purdue game, when Allen kicked a field goal to defeat the Buckeyes.

Jim Welch, chairman of the event, said tickets are still available. They are $2 each.

Burns Steps Into Evy's Gridiron Post At Iowa

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer
IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Jerry Burns, personable new coach of the Iowa football team, admits he has inherited a squad loaded with talent.

"We've got some good freshmen coming up," the 33-year-old Michigan grad said. "But I don't think we'll need more than a couple of them next fall."

"There is no question about the fact that Evy has left me some tremendous material," Burns said after he was named Saturday to succeed Forest Evashevski, who quit to concentrate on his duties as athletic director.

Burns will lose only six players off the first two units of this year's squad which rolled to an 8-1 record by whipping Notre Dame 28-0 Saturday, tied for the Big Ten title and is a leading contender for the national championship.

Back next fall—barring scholastic difficulties—will be such standouts as quarterbacks Wilburn Hollis and Matt Szykowny, half-backs Larry Ferguson, Sammie Harris and Bernie Wyatt, ends Felton Rogers, Bill Perkins and Bill Whisler, tackles Chester Williams and Al Hinton, guards Bill DiCindio and Sherwyn Thorson and centers Bill Van Buren and Dayton Perry.

Only seniors on the starting unit this fall were tackle Charlie Lee, guard Mark Manders and half-back Jerry Mauren. Second team losses will be center Lloyd Humphries, guard Bill Ringer and full-back Gene Mosley.

Burns said he plans to use the same flash attack designed by Evashevski which has been so potent offensively the Hawkeyes haven't been shut out in their last 74 games.

"It would be foolish to change a style of play which has been so successful," Burns said. "And I worked for Evy for six years as an assistant coach so I'm bound to be influenced some by his thinking."

The new coach said if Iowa should be invited to the Rose Bowl "Evy definitely will do the coaching."

3 Teams Tied For NHL Lead

By The Associated Press
The National Hockey League lead was in a three-way tie today, with the Montreal Canadiens, the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Detroit Red Wings each credited with 24 points.

The Canadiens muffed their chance to hold their one-point margin when they battled the Chicago Black Hawks to a 1-1 tie. The deadlock left the Chicagoans only one point behind the trio of pacesetters.

The Red Wings defeated the last-place New York Rangers Sunday night 4-3 and the Leafs won over the Boston Bruins 3-2.

The Canadians took a 1-0 lead late in the first period on Dick Moore's 19th goal of the season, but Eric Nesterenko squared the score at 16:17 of the second period and the rivals battled on even terms in the third.

It was the Black Hawks' 10th straight game in the Chicago Stadium without a defeat.

The Toronto-Boston game was a brawling affair, with Dave Keon scoring the winning marker after Frank Mahovlich had turned in a pair. Don McKennedy and Orval Tessier scored for the Bruins.

Patrol Seeking Body

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—A motor scooter left a county road in northeastern Knox County sometime late Sunday, plunged down a steep bank and burst into flames. But authorities can find no trace of the youthful operator.

Dragging operations are under way in the Mohican River in search of 16-year-old Gordon Hughes. The State Highway Patrol skindiving team is to join the search.

The accident happened near Brinkhaven. No one is certain of the exact time. The burning scooter set fire to the grass and brush on the hillside down which it plunged.

The Mohican River flows past the hill. The scene is near U.S. 62 where Knox, Holmes and Cos. election counties meet.

Rookie Honors Go To Hansen In AL Voting

BOSTON (AP) — Ron Hansen, wide-ranging shortstop for Baltimore's exciting "Baby Birds," and a big factor in their drive to prominence, today was named the American League's rookie of the year for 1960.

He won it hands-down, polling 22 of the 24 votes cast by a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

His only competition came from teammates on the youthful Orioles, first baseman Jim Gentile and pitcher Chuck Estrada. Each got one vote.

Hansen, a 22-year-old product of Oxford, Neb., provided a good portion of the glove work that brought the young Orioles into position to challenge the New York Yankees for the league title.

He had a mediocre .255 batting average, but pounded out 22 homers and drove in 82 runs in his first full year in the majors.

The Yankees hit successive home runs 13 times last season. In six of the games, Roger Maris was involved with a four bagger.

Cleveland's Title Hopes Dimmed By 14-10 Loss To Steelers

Browns Close Fast But Drop Third Contest

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, bruised by their third loss in a month of National Football League play, saw their once bright hopes of an Eastern Division title barely flickering today.

A few inches and a few seconds made the difference Sunday when the Browns lost, 14-10, at Pittsburgh in a game that was a reversal of the script for the Steelers, who have dropped four games in which they entered the final minutes with a lead.

Five seconds were left when the Browns lined up on the Steelers 10 for the last play in a drive that began on the Cleveland 24 with 2:40 remaining. Quarterback Milt Plum moved to his left and cross-fired to 6-foot-4 Leon Clarke in the end zone.

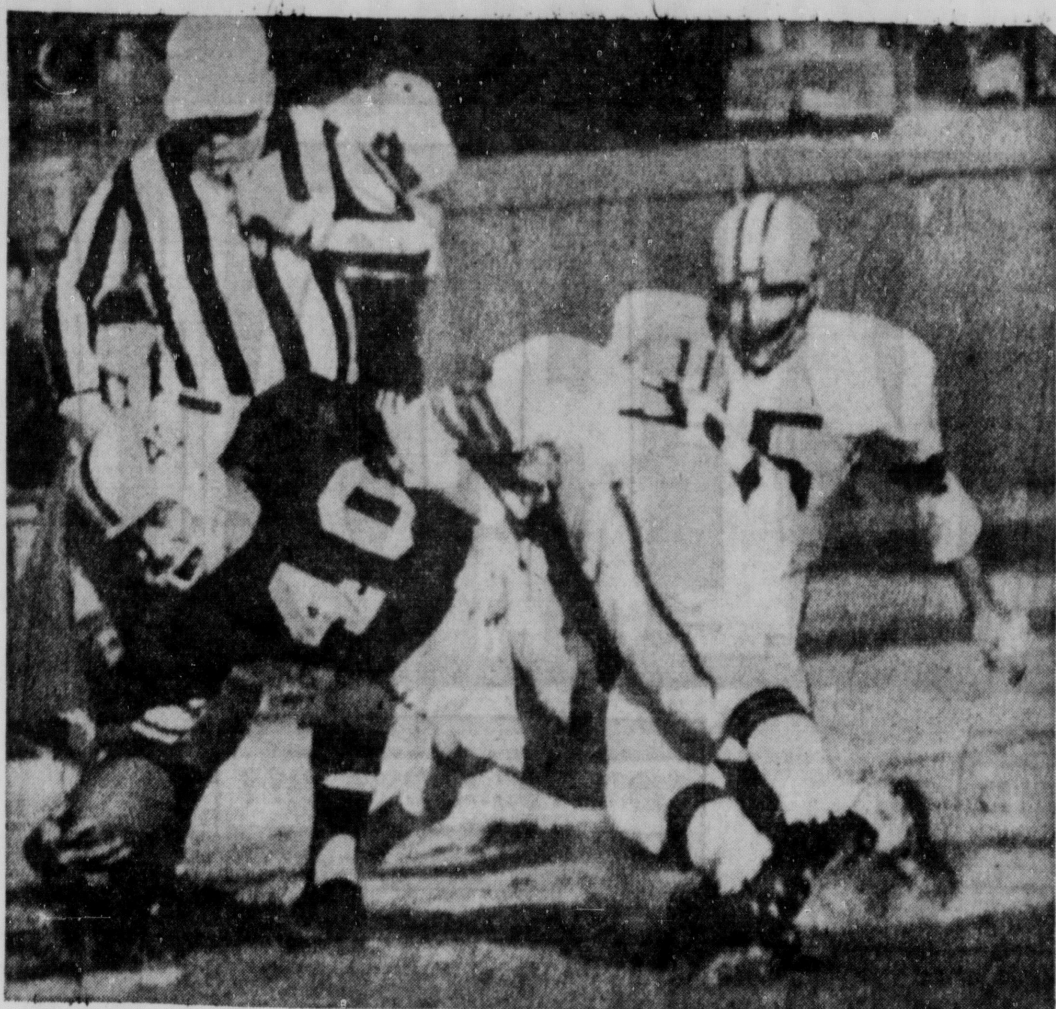

"I thought I picked it up clean with my finger tips," the end said afterward. "I guess they ruled I rapped the ball. I'll be interested to see what the movies show."

The scoreboard showed a loss for Cleveland and a 17-10 victory for the Philadelphia Eagles over the New York Giants. With four games to go, the Eagles now lead the Browns by two full games and can lose next Sunday's return match to the Giants and still stay on top.

The Browns made only 24 yards rushing in the first half against the Steelers and got their first points on a 19-yard field goal by Sam Baker in the third quarter. The kick came after a 97-yard drive bogged down with linebacker George Tarasovic throwing Plum for a 10-yard loss to the Pittsburgh 12.

The Steelers kept the Browns 26 or more yards away from their goal during the first half and were off to a 7-0 lead by traveling 70 yards in seven plays the second time they got the ball. John Henry Johnson plunged the last yard.

A 55-yard pass gain, Plum to Bobby Mitchell, was the big play in an 80-yard march to Cleveland's only touchdown. The scoring play was a six-yard pass to Dick Kreitling in the end zone with 6:38 of the last period left.

Quarterback Bobby Layne quickly put the Steelers back in front by engineering a 75-yard drive that started on Pittsburgh's 25. A 17-yard pass to Jim Orr and a 31-yard throw to Preston Carpenter consumed most of the yardage as the Steelers moved to Cleveland's 12, where the Browns' defense stiffened. With fourth down and two to go for a first down or four yards for a touchdown, Tom Tracy rounded right end for the score.

Jim Brown took the ensuing kicking back to Cleveland's 27 and the race with the clock began. Plum completed four passes to Gern Nagler for a total of 65 yards and Clarke and Ray Renfro were receivers for 14-yard gains. But part of this yardage was offset when Plum was thrown for a 14-yard loss and later penalized for intentionally grounding a pass.

Brown's 86 yards in 17 carries added up to most of Cleveland's 121 yards of net rushing gain; while Tom Tracy's 78 in 19 tries accounted for most of Pittsburgh's 149-yard net on the ground.

Plum completed 23 of 37 passes and continued his season-long no interceptions record. Nagler caught 10 of the passes for 177 yards, and Renfro grabbed five for 57. Layne completed 10 of 23 tosses for 174 yards.

Tigers Name Bob Scheffing As Manager

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Scheffing, ex-major league catcher and manager of the Chicago Cubs for three seasons, today was named to manage the Detroit Tigers.

The 45-year-old former backstop for the Cubs, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds agreed to a reported $35,000 salary.

The signing of Scheffing ended a long search by the Tigers for a successor to Joe Gordon, now manager of the Kansas City Athletics. Scheffing is the eighth Detroit manager in 10 years.

The Tigers were left high and dry when Gordon suddenly quit Oct. 3, two months after leaving Cleveland in the unprecedented managerial trade for Jimmie Dykes. Gordon brought the Tigers in sixth in the American League.

New Senate Probe Set For Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new series of hearings involving the Teamsters Union has been called by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

McClellan said over the weekend the hearings would start Dec. 13 and would concentrate on New York City Teamsters operations. He said he expected to call union president James R. Hoffa "to explain the continuance of racket control of teamsters locals under his jurisdiction."

A Florida grand jury also has resumed its investigation of Hoffa's alleged misuse of $400,000 in Teamsters funds in a Florida real estate project.

Beloit Driver, 25, Dies In Collision In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — James L. Greenawalt, 25, of Beloit (Mahoning County), Ohio, was killed Sunday in a head-on collision on Rt. 54 northeast of Springfield.

Arthur M. Peratt, 23, of Sherman, riding in Greenawalt's car, was injured seriously. Also injured were the driver of the other car, Joseph Todd, 54, of Edwardsville; his wife, Florence, 53; a daughter, Patricia Ann, 10, and a family friend, Rosalie Kovarich, 33.

Weirton Routs Nitro, 40-0 To Win Grid Title

WEIRTON (AP) — "We got the breaks . . . that and our speed . . . they made the difference," was the way Weirton Coach Jim Carey described his team's 40-0 victory over Nitro Saturday for the state Class AAA high school football title.

"We were figuring out after the game," Carey said, "that we actually earned two touchdowns. The others came as the result of breaks that came our way."

This was Weirton's fourth state football title and moved the Red Riders into a tie with Parkersburg for the lead in the all-time number of such championships.

"Nitro has a good team — well coached," Carey said. "It's a shame that some folks will forget their fine season and just remember the playoff game."

Nitro Coach Ken Whittington agreed with Carey that speed was a major factor.

Said Whittington: "Speed and that halfback Bob Kelley. He's the best looking player I've seen in a long time . . . They were the difference."

Kelley, only a junior, bowed out of high school play with a brilliant performance, scoring four touchdowns and passing for another TD. Kelley will be too old to play next year in West Virginia.

Carey discounted reports that Kelley will move into Ohio to finish out his high school football career.

"They have a transfer rule which would make Kelley ineligible next season," Carey explained. "I'd like to see him go to some prep school."

Carey gives a great deal of credit to Carl Hamill, former Weirton coach, for helping with the team.

Hamill, now dean of boys, assisted with the defense, Carey said. The contest marked the first time Nitro failed to score in 40 consecutive games — a string that dates back to the opener in the 1957 season.

There were the usual rounds of celebrations and banquets for the champions. Police cars and fire engines, with sirens wailing, escorted the team on a parade through the downtown section on its return from the game at Parkersburg. There was a victory dance at the Weirton Recreation Center.

Carey doesn't have much time to bask in the football glory. He has to take over the basketball team which already has started practicing.

Weirton will lose all but two of its starters from this year's championship team. Nitro will lose all but one starter.

2 Killed In Crash Of Guard 'Copter

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two men were killed Sunday in the crash of an Air National Guard helicopter during a practice flight.

Wabie Sahady, about 40, of Jefferson, Greene County, died in a hospital shortly after the crash.

The pilot, Donald Yoders, 27, of Waynesburg, died about six hours later.

State police said the helicopter struck a power line and crashed in an open field about two miles east of here.

Sahady was the commander of the Civil Air Patrol in Greene County and was twice an unsuccessful candidate for Congress.

Police said he was conscious when rescuers arrived, but was unable to explain why the helicopter hit the power line.

The helicopter was stationed at the Washington, Pa., unit of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard.

THE REVIEW

Missouri Is Upset

Half-Dozen Teams Still Eye National Grid Title

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A mad scramble for the national college football championship suddenly developed today out of the demise of Missouri, with more than a half-dozen teams remaining in the running for the coveted title.

Last week Missouri had one foot in the throne room door. The Tigers had rampaged through nine opponents and needed only to get past twice-beaten Kansas to take the crown.

But Kansas plastered the Tigers 23-7. So Missouri finished with a 9-1 record. So did Washington. Iowa showed 8-1 as did Minnesota, Navy and Auburn. Mississippi, the only one of the group that has not been defeated has an 8-0-1 record with one game to go.

So nothing really can be settled until after the Mississippi-Mississippi State game Saturday.

Missouri, of course, is not out of it. The Tigers just happened to be the last of the big boys to bite the dust. Iowa was ranked No. 2 in The Associated Press poll last week behind Missouri and looked powerful in blanking Notre Dame, 28-0.

But what of Minnesota? The Gophers whipped Wisconsin, 26-7, in their finale to tie Iowa for the Big Ten title. Further, Minnesota was the only team to beat Iowa during the season.

Washington didn't enhance its reputation by barely edging Washington State, 8-7. Navy was idle, waiting for the big one against Army Saturday, while Auburn clobbered Florida State 57-21.

The bowl situation is just as confused. Five teams have been tapped officially — Washington for the Rose, Arkansas for the Cotton, Missouri for the Orange, Florida for the Gator, and Penn State for the Liberty.

The Rose Bowl appears ready to break its long tradition—there is no more official contract—with the Big Ten and invite Navy if the Middles beat Army. That would leave Minnesota and Iowa, both hoping to make the westward trek, out in the cold. Syracuse officials met Sunday night and decided to postpone any action of bowl bids. The Orange already has been invited to the Gotham Bowl in New York and the Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia. With all the speculation in the air, the major bowls could wind up like this:

Rose—Washington vs. Navy.
Cotton—Arkansas vs. Oregon.
Orange—Missouri vs. Duke.
Sugar—Mississippi vs. Rice.
Gator—Florida vs. Tennessee.
Gotham—Syracuse vs. Alabama.

Liberty—Penn State vs. Tennessee.

Again, Duke won the Atlantic Coast Conference championship, but lost its final game of the season to North Carolina last Saturday, 7-6.

Only two major teams in the country managed to wind up unbeaten and untied. Yale crushed Harvard, 39-6, to complete its first perfect season since 1923 with a 9-0 record. But Ivy League teams don't play postseason games.

New Mexico State won its ninth without defeat, thrashing Hardin-Simmons, 40-3.

Confidence In Dollar

Europe 'Controls' Gold

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nations of Western Europe now have it in their power to rock the American financial system any day in the week.

All that stands between crisis and stability is an intangible called "confidence" — confidence that the U.S. dollar will remain "as good as gold."

Foreign governments and their citizens own about $18 billion of Uncle Sam's money. Most of these dollars are owned by Western Europeans and are deposited or invested in the United States. Theoretically, all could be used to buy American gold.

If all were used for this purpose, Uncle Sam's supply of bullion would be wiped out. There is only $18 billion of gold in the government's coffers.

Such a disaster is virtually impossible.

For one thing, foreigners do so much business with the United States that they couldn't afford to exchange all their dollars for gold.

Furthermore, to do so would wreck their own finances because the United States is the cornerstone of the free world economy.

This doesn't mean, however, that the current anxiety over Uncle Sam's persistent loss of gold is misplaced. The simple fact is that foreigners could cause a major crisis merely by exchanging a relatively small proportion of their dollars for gold in the span of a few days.

If foreigners bought $1 billion of U.S. gold in a single week, this would be taken as a vote of "no confidence" in the dollar. Perhaps even a lesser amount would turn the tide.

It is this possibility which last week prompted President Eisenhower to impose unprecedented restrictions on spending abroad under the military and foreign aid programs. His aim was to lessen the number of dollars moving into foreign hands; dollars that could be used to buy American gold.

Since July 1, foreigners have been buying American gold at the rate of $3.8 billion a year. Since Aug. 1, they have been ordering at an annual pace of $4.1 billion. Since Sept. 1, the rate has risen to $4.7 billion. Since Oct. 1, the flow of bullion has hit a spectacular annual rate of $5.9 billion.

Compare this buying with the remaining U.S. gold supply: $18 billion of which $11.5 billion must, by law, remain in government hands as backing for part of the money supply.

Some believe the President's actions were too severe—that the cure will hurt more than the disease. However, the fact that such action was taken by a "lame duck" administration suggests the urgency with which the problem is viewed by Eisenhower and his secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson.

Why couldn't they have waited nine more weeks for the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy?

Some speculate that the actions were taken now because Eisenhower felt they would be necessary soon and feared a new administration might be reluctant to take potentially unpopular measures.

This was denied by an official who took part in the meeting at which Eisenhower made his decision. This man said there was only one reason for acting now: Inauguration Day might be too late.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Uncle Miltie Will Work Anywhere

George Burns recently accosted Milton Berle at their Hillcrest Country Club hangout and said to him, "Milton, only you would have the nerve to stand in a bowling alley and tell jokes." Berle laughed and took George's crack as a high compliment. A c-tually, b-oth comedians were kidding themselves. It Hal Humphrey doesn't take nerve for a comedian to tell jokes anywhere. I'd be willing to wager that if the cigar people sponsoring Miltie had come to George Burns first, it would be George who'd see on NBC's Monday "Jackpot Bowling" show.

Telling jokes and getting laughs is like food and drink to people like Berle and Burns. They become irritable, irrational and irresponsible when the opportunity is denied them.

MILTY MIGHT have countered Burns' crack with a rib about the latter's taking his night club act into Los Angeles' open-air Greek Theater last summer. Jack Benny has told jokes in the same rarefied air, but at least he had his violin along.

Again, nerve had nothing to do with it when Miltie last year found himself hovering over New York in a jet airliner with one engine flamed out. It took two hours before the plane could be brought down, and for Miltie it was truly heaven.

Where else could a comedian have an audience strapped in their seats and no place to go even if they could get loose? Miltie told jokes that night which hadn't been out of his file for years.

THE ONE THING that bothers Miltie with the bowling show is his producer, Buddy Arnold, sitting on the edge of one of the lanes with a stop watch. When Buddy signals Miltie to cut, he has to cut, and this is like removing one of the comedian's arms.

Many viewers still remember the night Miltie ran long on the "Emmy Awards" show. Some of his brother comedians haven't forgiven him yet for that one.

"I never know what will happen now," says Miltie, "I'm supposed to have 1 minute and 45 seconds for my opening. That means about nine jokes if I talk fast, and I talk fast. Between the matches I'm supposed to plan for 4 1/2 minutes, but if the matches run long I have to cut right on the air."

MILTY LIKES to give the impression that each Monday night he more or less strolls nonchalantly into the lanes in Hollywood, lights up the sponsor's cigar and rattles off the required number of jokes. Actually, he is there five to six hours ahead of show time, working as hard as if he were starring in a spectacular.

Of course, Miltie is making a fancy $15,000 per show (and you thought the bowling prizes were big!), but again I tell you it isn't the money but the jokes that interest this man.

Miltie's 30-year contract with NBC still has 20 years to go, and that alone pays him a six-figure stipend per year. Also, Miltie is getting ready to sink about $2.5 million into a 50-50 partnership in four big bowling centers. He planned this venture before being offered the bowling show.

"I'll admit that being on the show won't hurt me when we get the bowling centers opened," says Miltie, smiling around his cigar.

IF BERLE can just find enough fast bowlers now, he'll be happy. The faster they are, the more jokes he can squeeze in. His fan mail is about equally divided between those who say, "How dare those bowlers take up so much time?" and those who howl, "What do we need Berle for?"

"Listen, I don't mind," says Miltie. "Those bowling fans have got to be looking at the show, don't they? Otherwise they wouldn't be griping, right? And the audience at the show is great. You're half-way home with a bowling audience. They're all ready for you — and laughing."

"Are you going to take up bowling?" I ask.

"Yeah," says Miltie, "if they get a lighter ball."

DiSalle Given Proposals On News Of State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has received several recommendations for administrative and legislative actions "to insure a fuller dissemination of information" on the state government.

The recommendations were made by a 24-member committee on public information comprised of state legislators, Cabinet officers and news media representatives. The committee said its study "clearly shows that generally the law, the regulations and practices of state governmental agencies, with respect to freedom of public information, are reasonable."

The committee's recommendations included those calling for legislation in next year's General Assembly to amend state laws to require the state liquor director to compile (as he does now on his own) a quarterly list of liquor permit applications, showing application date and priority of consideration, and to require publication of such a list in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the applicant resides.

Allow radio and television representatives in proportionate numbers to attend executions at Ohio Penitentiary.

Require the highway director to give the governor confidential information which the director receives in qualifying a bidder on highway jobs.

Require the managing officer of each state mental or correctional institution to call upon the corner to determine the cause of every death in the institution.

Make a designated administrative official responsible for reviewing, advising and assisting administrative agencies. Such help would include things pertaining to preparing and publishing annual reports, revising a and drafting rules and regulations, and publishing continually revised agency information deemed vital to the public.

The committee recommend administrative changes to: Require the Department of Highways to submit to the governor current lists of all engineering firms hired by the department, and for the governor to make such lists available to interested persons.

Require the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction to comply with state laws providing for the listing in its annual report the names of officers and agents employed by the department.

Require the state purchasing agent to publish a list of all bids and to summarize on what basis the contract awards were made.

New Trial Starts For Mother Cited In Drugging Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — The trial of Mrs. Lillian Frantantonio, 29, interrupted after five days last September because of the judge's fatal illness, begins anew today with selection of a Juvenile Court jury.

Charged with child-neglect in the drugging of her "sleeping beauty" daughters, Venita, 5, and Bernadette, 3, Mrs. Frantantonio has pleaded innocent. If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of a year in jail and a $500 fine.

A mistrial was declared on Sept. 28 because of the illness of Judge Margaret J. Spellacy, who presided at the first trial from Sept. 19 through Sept. 23. Judge Spellacy's illness resulted in her death two weeks ago.

Opposing counsel in the trial opening today are the same as two months ago and proceedings for the first several days are expected to retrace ground covered at the earlier trial.

Hearings Slated For 5 Held In Trumbull Raid

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A preliminary hearing has been set Dec. 9 for five Trumbull County men arrested in a raid by Treasury Department agents on charges of violating the federal gambling tax stamp law.

Arrested Saturday at the Log Cabin Cafe on Palmyra Road just outside Warren and released on $1,000 bond each following arraignment were:

Anthony Delsanter, 50, and Nick Denuzio, 49, both of Warren; Louis Marchionte, 40, of Niles, a bartender at the Log Cabin; Carmen Perfette, 39, of Niles, and his nephew, Joseph Perfette, 18, of Warren.

Agents conducting the raid named Delsanter as the kingpin of the gambling "operation." They confiscated $3,000 in money, football pool tickets, numbers slips, horse race betting equipment and two guns.

Firemen Quell Flames Periling East End Shed

City firemen were called to Railroad St. Saturday afternoon to quell a fire which endangered an equipment shed owned by the state.

Firemen said a booster line was used to quell the wood fire outside the shed. They did not list which state department uses the shed.

The department was called to the former bus garage on Pennsylvania Ave. late Sunday night when a passerby heard an alarm bell ringing. Firemen said there was no fire, explaining pressure in the sprinkler system dropped, allowing the bell to ring.

Wilmington Boy Killed, Police Quiz Companion

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Wilmington police continued investigation today of the fatal shooting of 14-year-old Charles James Kuhns. The boy, shot through the heart with a .22 caliber bullet, was found by hunters Saturday near a cemetery here.

Another boy, 15, was taken into custody for questioning. Police Chief Stanley Irwin said the older boy claimed the shooting was accidental as he and Kuhns were firing at targets with a pistol.

Man Held For Slaying

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff Harold Shields says Marion Pickett, 41, will be charged today in the shotgun death of his half-brother, Clifford Pickett, 53. The shooting occurred Sunday in Marion Pickett's home near Kimberly. The two half-brothers were neighbors. No reason was disclosed for the alleged slaying but the sheriff said he believed the two men were drinking just prior to the shooting.

Cheviot Sets Vice Hearing

CINCINNATI (AP) — The City Council of suburban Cheviot plans a public hearing on reports of vice and gambling in that city of 10,693 which adjoins northwest Cincinnati.

Council voted at an unusual Sunday night meeting to hold the hearing after questioning Police Chief Emmett Zoller as to gambling operations.

The meeting was called after federal tax agents raided a beer carryout establishment Friday and arrested two men on charges of engaging in horse race and football card betting without a federal gambling tax stamp.

The Pony Keg, operated by Robert J. Cavanaugh, 49, is on Harrison Avenue, the main business thoroughfare through the city. Zoller admitted to the councilmen that he had heard reports of gambling at the Pony Keg but declared he never had been able to get any evidence.

"He (Cavanaugh) only uses the phone," Zoller said. "When he sees you walk around the corner he hangs up."

Some of the councilmen questioned Zoller as to how federal agents got their evidence if the police chief could not get it. Zoller said he had told a state liquor agent of the reports of gambling at the Pony Keg and expressed belief the state officer may have tipped off federal agents.

The chief added: "I'll arrest on concrete evidence but I'm not going to be left holding the bag. I'm not going to put my neck in the noose."

City Solicitor William Culbertson proposed that Council enact ordinances to make it illegal for anyone knowingly to rent quarters for gambling and to require the state police chief to notify the State Liquor Department, the sheriff and the Internal Revenue Service of places where there is reported gambling.

Star Had 5 Wives, Many Sweethearts

Women In Gable's Life Reveal His 'True Self'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The woman in a man's life help reveal what kind of person he was.
Clark Gable had five wives and many sweethearts. They, perhaps, provide the most useful means of understanding the fabulous star, who otherwise revealed little of his true self.
Wife No. 1 was Josephine Dillon, a warm-hearted actress and director who met him in a Portland, Ore., theater and taught him how to act. They married in 1924, when he was 23 and she was 40. They were divorced in 1930.
Wife No. 2 was Rita Langham, a double divorcee Gable married in 1931 when he was 30 and she was 41. They were divorced in 1935.
Why would a man of legendary sex appeal twice marry women much older than himself? The answer seems to lie in Gable's early life. He never knew his mother, never had the stability of a permanent home. It's possible he sought in older women a security he had never known.
The first Mrs. Gable offered some insight on her famed husband: "He's a fine actor. The Clark Gable you see on the screen, that playful rogue with the happy-go-lucky mischievous glint in his eye, is not the real Gable. The real Gable is moody and thoughtful and gloomy."
Lusty, fun-loving Carole Lombard seemed a perfect match for Gable. She pulled him out of his gloom, and their raucous life together became a legend. They had met and quarreled at a party; next day, she sent a cage of doves to his apartment. That became their way of settling arguments.
She called him Pappy and he called her Mrs. G. She once sent him for Valentine's Day an ancient Ford painted white with red hearts. He hopped up the motor and drove it for a year.
On the night of Jan. 16, 1942, he was waiting at Glendale Airport for her return from a war bond selling tour. She never made it. Her plane had crashed into Mt. Charleston, Nev.
Gable plunged into depression. Carole's last message to him from Amarillo, Tex., had been: "Hey, Pappy, you'd better get into this man's army." He enlisted as a private that year.
After the war, Gable resumed dating, sometimes with glamour girls like Paulette Goddard, Virginia Grey, Anita Colby and Evelyn Keyes, sometimes with mature socialites like Dolly O'Brien and Millicent Rogers. In 1949, he surprised everyone by eloping with thrice-married Lady Sylvia Ashley, widow of Douglas Fairbanks Sr.
Gable had popped the question at a party the night before. It proved to be a wrong impulse. Within a year, he told her: "I wish to be free; I don't want to be married to you or anyone else." Her friends said she felt like the second wife in "Rebecca," living in the same house with Carole Lombard's memory. His friends said he couldn't stand her lap dog and her chi-chi friends.
The star again played the field, dallying briefly with Grace Kelly—"If I had been 15 years younger, I would have made a real play for her." One of his dates lamented her chances: "He wants a wife who can dress to the hilt at night and cook flapjacks over a campfire in the daytime."
Kay Williams Spreckels, a friend for 15 years, qualified. Again he eloped, again with a mature woman of the world. The marriage brought him much happiness and he guarded it against intrusion from the outside world. His happiness was compounded by the prospect of becoming a father for the first time. But death intervened.

Police Figure They'll Get Calls For Help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Because of an inscription above the front door of headquarters, police here figure they'll be getting a lot of calls for help.
The calls—which flood the telephone switchboard at headquarters—come from school children. Many get the homework assignment during the first weeks of school to learn the text of the inscription. It says: "Dedicated to justice for all in the firm belief that obedience to the law is freedom."
Mrs. John Varley, a sixth grade teacher at Christ the King School, first gave the assignment in 1957. Police said she told them that she thinks the inscription is a good motto to live by.

4 Motorists Fined In Traffic Cases

Four motorists were fined and two others forfeited bonds for traffic violations today in Municipal Court.
David E. Clark of Wellsville R. D. 1, cited Nov. 13 by the State Highway Patrol for speeding 70 miles an hour on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd., was fined $15 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Clark said he was en route to church when stopped by the patrol.
Robert L. Gearhart of New Philadelphia was fined $5 and costs for crashing a traffic signal this morning at Dresden Ave. and Webster Way.
Byron C. Dray of R. D. 2 and John L. Bird, 10 Ruth St., were fined $5 and costs each for failing to observe stop signs. Dray was cited Thursday for crashing the sign at Globe and Palissey Sts. and Bird was cited Friday afternoon after failing to stop at Park Blvd. and St. Clair Ave.
John F. O'Brien of Bolivar, Ohio, forfeited a $31 bond on a charge of passing on a curve near Cannons Mills filed this morning by the patrol, and Branson Grossbacher of Akron forfeited $16 on a charge of passing at an intersection Sunday on Route 30.

Witness In Bank Theft Returns As Attorney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—About three years ago Phoenix attorney John B. Marron was taking an evening walk when he noticed a speeding car grind to a halt and the driver dash down an alley.
Police arrived a few minutes later and Marron described the fleeing man. The description led to the arrest and conviction of Sammie E. Gardner for the robbery of a Phoenix bank.
Recently Gardner asked for a new hearing and a court-appointed lawyer, Superior Judge Laurens L. Henderson checked the list of available attorneys and appointed—John B. Marron.
The first animal defined in the dictionary is the aardvark.

Wellsville Brush Fire Burns Over 10 Acres

A grass and woods fire burned over 10 acres off the Old Salineville Rd. near Springhill Cemetery at Wellsville Sunday after 1 p. m.
About 25 men, including bystanders and a crew of state forestry men, fought the blaze, which burned 8 acres of grass and 2 acres of woods.
Robert McIntosh of Scio, division forest fire warden, and Charles R. Heifner of Scotch Settlement, Wellsville, area warden, directed the operations.
Two juveniles were being questioned in connection with the fire. It is believed they possibly may have started the blaze, authorities said.
The Wellsville fire department received a call at 1:15. Chief Robert Lewis investigated but did not send his trucks out when it was found the forest fire crew was on the job.

2 Selected To Handle Queries On Inaugural

Eli G. Corak of Midland, Beaver County Democratic chairman, has made two appointments for the handling of all questions and reservations for the Presidential inauguration.
Robert Neely, secretary to U. S. Rep. Frank M. Clark, and Jack Kelly, president of the Beaver County Young Democrat Club, were appointed today to be in charge of Beaver County plans for the inaugural. Deadline will be Wednesday for some reservations.

3 Hearings Postponed

WEIRTON — Hearings scheduled this morning in Municipal Court for three tavern operators facing charges of illegal possession of alcohol were postponed for the fourth time when the defendants failed to appear. Court officials said the tavern owners, George Reveaut, Raymond Lemsky and Ann Myers, were out of town. They appeared for a hearing Friday but it was postponed because of a bomb threat at Weir High School. Judge Norman Ferrari Jr. investigated the scare. Hearings will be held next Monday morning for the three tavern owners.

Ambridge Men Jailed In Plant Numbers Case

Two Ambridge men have been arrested on a numbers charge by Beaver County detectives during their investigation of numbers writing at the H. H. Robertson Co. at Ambridge.
Code signs and nick names on company paper have been found. Steve Mosura, a company employee, was sentenced in Beaver County Court Friday on a numbers charge, but refused to talk. The company has co-operated with police, authorities said. Names of the two arrested have been withheld until the arrests of others.

LET'S ALL HELP THE COMMUNITY FUND

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our club members contribute every week to a "Night Out Fund." Once a year we girls have dinner in a nice restaurant and it's fun for everyone.

Last week was our annual night out. There's been a lot of talk back and forth on the telephone about something that happened.

We went to a lovely place that serves smorgasbord — all you can eat for $1.85. Several girls went back a second time, which was perfectly okay — I think. Some of the girls who went back, however, piled up their plates as high as they could.

Then they wrapped the chicken and ham in paper napkins and put it in their purses to take home.

It is true the restaurant advertises "all you can eat for $1.85," so these women claim it was all right. Was it? — DON'T KNOW.

Dear Don't: When a restaurant advertises "all you can eat for $1.85," it doesn't mean "all you can carry out." The women who piled food on their plates to take home were guilty of bad manners.

I once knew a woman who ruined the inside of a $35 purse because she wanted to take home a piece of 30-cent pastry she couldn't finish at the table. She learned that a cheap stunt can sometimes be pretty expensive. I know — because the woman was me.

Unreasonable Request

Dear Ann: My husband passed away when our son was very young. My big aim in life was to see that Wilfred got a good education. I succeeded. He will be graduated from a fine Eastern school in the spring.

I only want one thing from him and I'd like to know if I have the right to insist on it. I think I do. He does not agree.

I'm a lonesome person who has a difficult time making friends. I want Wilfred to marry a girl from this city — someone who has parents here — so I will have the pleasure of associating with her people. I have no particular girl in mind, Ann, I just want him to marry someone local.

Is this asking too much? — S.C.

Dear S. C.: Yes. Too much. Your son should not feel under obligation to select as his wife a girl whose family can provide you with company. For your own sake, as well as his, tell him you've thought it over and changed your mind. Then — please do.

Pottery Store Entered By Weekend Burglars

Burglars apparently left empty-handed after a weekend entry of the Pearl China Co. store on Route 30 in the California Hollow section near the East Liverpool city limits, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported at Lisbon.

The intruders broke a rear window to gain entrance and then smashed a hole in a wall to enter the office, but nothing was taken and there apparently was no effort to enter a safe, the sheriff said.

Muscular Dystrophy Campaign Nets $1,916

Women volunteer workers collected $1,916.45 Sunday afternoon in a house-to-house canvass for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund.

In addition to East Liverpool proper, the drive covered Calcutta, Glenmoor, LaCroft and the Substation area. Mrs. George Beck, co-chairman, said the canvassers left envelopes at homes where there was no response to a knock.

The envelopes may be mailed to Post Office Box 218, she explained. In the 1959 drive, about $1,900 was collected in the household canvass, but the total rose to $2,200 when the mail contributions were received, Mrs. Beck said.

FRESH CHICKENS

Caught In Trap

Dear Ann: Your advice is usually excellent but occasionally I suspect you make a ridiculous statement to see what response you'll get.

Well, I've fallen into your tender trap. I want to protest against overly - clean housekeepers. You said you'd prefer the super-clean nut to the super-dirty one.

I happen to know some of those 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. dirt chasers. They don't even know the name of their governor. They think it's more important to know there's not a fingerprint on the wall.

Have you noticed what the kids are like from these antiseptic homes? They always have colds and they're afraid to play with other kids for fear they'll get dirty and catch it.

A woman who can't leave the dishes in the sink and go to a movie with her husband is a poor wife.

Thanks for listening. I think I'd better go sweep the kitchen floor before someone falls down in the garbage. — NO NEUTROTIC.

Dear No: I don't have to set tender traps to get "response." Extremes are always bad and the overly clean housekeeper is as sick as the dirty one. Excuse me while I go wipe a fingerprint off the wall.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Greyhound Loses 'Scent' At Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A big Greyhound bus was cruising in the Riverdale section of Dayton Saturday, a good two miles off its route and its driver admittedly lost.

The sheepish driver on the Detroit-Cincinnati run flagged down a policeman and explained he was supposed to be at the downtown bus terminal but couldn't find it.

The obliging policeman blocked off North Main Street traffic so the big double-decker could turn around and head south on Main. The officer also called ahead to another police cruiser to "pick up" the bus at the Main Street bridge and guide the driver to the bus station.

The driver wasn't sure but said he thought he had taken a wrong turn off Interstate 75.

Conferences Planned On Athletics Injuries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two regional conferences will be held Nov. 28 to discuss prevention and care of injuries in high school athletics. The meetings will be held at Wilmington College and Muskingum College. High school coaches, trainers, athletic directors, faculty managers, administrators and physicians will attend the meetings.

Sponsored jointly by the Ohio High School Athletic Association and the Ohio State Medical Association, the conferences will emphasize procedures aimed at giving the athlete the best possible protection.

Retired Post Office Workers Honored During Lisbon Event

Paul Burnip and Galen Kenty were special guests Saturday evening when some 40 postal employees and their wives gathered at the Lisbon American Legion hall for a farewell party in their honor. Burnip and Kenty recently retired from the Postal Department after many years of service.

They received gifts from fellow Post Office employees and were presented citations signed by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield from Postmaster Howard E. Hochmann.

L. E. McKenna and Ray D. Thomson, both retired rural mail carriers, gave talks on their experiences.

The affair began with a 6:30 steak dinner served by the auxiliary. The table was centered with a Thanksgiving arrangement and white pom-poms in bud vases completed the decorations. A social hour followed.

3 Win Prizes

Members of the Lisbon Cardettes were entertained in the home of Mrs. Robert Mix at Salem Friday night.

Two tables of 500 were in play, with prizes won by Mrs. Larry Glenn, Mrs. Robert Hahn and Mrs. Bernard Sweeney. Mrs. Dale Holshue was a guest. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The group drew names for a Christmas exchange and will plan a party when it meets Dec. 2 with Mrs. Hahn of E. Lincoln Way.

Mrs. Carl Armstrong, president of the Bethany Class of the First Christian Church, entertained the class Friday night at her home on N. Market St.

After devotions, papers were read by Mrs. Arlene Peppel, Miss Esther Stackhouse and Miss Goldie Carlisle.

Lunch was served. Plans are being made for the next meeting. Rogers PTA Entertained

The Lisbon Lionettes traveled to Rogers with their entertainment unit to furnish the program for the elementary school PTA Friday night.

Judy Thirion, tap dancer, and Kenny Morris, guitarist and vocalist, were added performers. It was Morris's last appearance with the group, since he was to enter the service today.

The next event will be a Christ-

Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving, according to E. O. Stackhouse, manager.

Thieves Take $243 In Goods At Local Store

Merchandise valued at $243 was stolen from the Goodyear Service Store, 653 Walnut St., in two cases of theft reported to police Saturday.

A "zoomatic" 8 mm. movie camera valued at $209 was taken from the store sometime between Thursday and Saturday, the store management reported. In what appeared to be a separate theft case about noon Saturday, a transistor radio worth $34 was taken, along with two baseballs, the management said.

Another theft, a burglary and an attempted breaking and entering also were reported to police over the weekend.

Intruders who forced their way into the L. & B. Doughnut Shop on Market St. Saturday night or Sunday took only a filled coin container for the Muscular Dystrophy Drive, police were told Sunday at 5:05 p. m. by Lorin Slates of Manor Ln., the owner.

Entry was gained between 5:50 p. m. Saturday and 5 p. m. Sunday by removing a 24-x-36-inch pane of glass from a rear door and then crawling through a narrow opening, he told police. The door knob was removed, but the locks were not released, Slates said.

The cash register was rifled, but it contained nothing of value, police said. The only thing missing was the MD Drive coin container, which was filled with assorted coins, Slates said.

David McDonald, operator of the Tri-State Appliance Co. at 407 Market St., told police at 3 p. m. Sunday that a transistor radio valued at $36 was stolen from his store sometime Friday afternoon.

Harry Andrews, operator of Harry's Diner on Dresden Ave., reported Saturday night that an unsuccessful attempt was made to enter his business place Friday night or early Saturday. Marks made by a sharp instrument were found on the bottom of a window frame on the south side of the building, he said.

Approximately $38 in change was taken from Roy's Bar, 755 Dresden Ave., between closing time Saturday and this morning, Roy Blinn, owner, told police.

Blinn said the thieves took about $15 in dimes from a bowling machine, 2 rolls of quarters, a roll of nickels and 2 rolls of pennies. Entrance was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a back door, Blinn said.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale
We All Need True Friends

Every now and then in life we ought to take time out to give thanks for friends. What would we ever do without them? What is a friend? The late Henry Ford once asked this question of a friend of mine. Then he answered his own question by writing with pencil on the menu of the restaurant where they were lunching. My friend kept that menu for years. Henry Ford wrote: "Your best friend is he who helps to bring out of you the best that is in you." I like that definition because it presupposes a creative factor in friendship, not merely blind and colorless affection. A real friend knows how to give you rough treatment when it is necessary for your own good. And he does it out of esteem and love for you.

DR. PEALE

AS A PASTOR, I preach to about 4,000 persons every Sunday and try to show spiritual friendship to my people between times as they come to me about life's problems.

And sometimes the preacher himself needs friends to provide him needed comfort and support. But there are other times when the preacher, being human (indeed, very human) and prone to error (like everyone else), needs an application of the stern aspect of friendship to get him back on the beam.

Well, there was a time of deep discouragement when I had started cancelling all my outside speaking engagements. I had shut myself away from usual contacts by retreating to a farm I have in the country. And I was treating myself to a big dose of self pity. In fact, I'll have to admit, I wasn't practicing my own teachings very well.

In our church membership is a lovely lady who was at one time president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs. She is a very intelligent and capable woman. Well, she got me on the phone.

"NORMAN," SHE said, "you are my pastor and I have a lot of respect for you. You have helped me in times of difficulty, as you know, but now it's your turn to need help and I'm going to talk to you like a Dutch uncle. Indeed, I'm going to talk to you as I would to my own son or husband."

She then proceeded to dissect my mental attitude and give me some strong and sound advice. And I knew it was sound, but she drove it deeply into my consciousness. It was pretty tough medicine she gave me, but she said she had prayed about it and felt this was just what I needed.

And how right she was. Her direct, vigorous sensible words shook me out of discouragement and started me on a positive approach to the problem I was facing. I shall always think of this woman as one of my best friends for she was trying to bring out of me the best that was in me.

Another great thing about a true friend is his loyal belief in you, no matter what. There are many people who quickly jump to conclusions and readily accept unfair and untrue things about another person.

But the real friend withholds his judgment. "Let's wait until we get all the facts," he will say. "Let's hold up until we get his own story. If he is in the wrong we will set him right. If he is in the right we will stand by him with love and loyalty." A friend like that is priceless — he is worth his weight in gold.

IN ADDITION, a true friend knows when you need a word of affection and encouragement and knows just how to say it. He is one of those wonderfully thoughtful people who is sensitive, or tuned in, to the hearts and minds of others. He has that fine sense of timing which enables him to say the word of comfort and strengthening just when needed.

At the risk of speaking too much of myself — I will mention a fellow pastor from Washington, D.C., who telephoned me one Sunday morning between my two services, and from his own great services, simply to say, "I'm thinking of you, old boy. God bless you."

I shall never forget that, nor shall I ever forget the editor of a great metropolitan newspaper who, sensing a crisis through which I was passing, telephoned at the very moment when I needed encouragement the most. Such friends are indispensable.

We ought to remember always that our own friends need this kind of help. Perhaps when all is said and done, the best thing we can ever be is just a friend.

Chickenplucker 'Fowls' Washer
MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lambillotte weren't exactly tickled by all the feathers in their laundromat here. Somebody played a "fowl" trick on them.

And after taking one of his washers apart for cleaning and disinfecting, Lambillotte is wondering if he ought to put up a sign, "The only chicks allowed in here are housewives."

Seems he found his laundromat room smeared with blood and littered with feathers the other night.

Some uncouth soul had used one of the large washers to scald a chicken—which was then plucked on the spot.

Silent Star Taken
SHARON, Conn. (AP)—Phyllis Haver, 60, actress in the silent film era, was found dead in her home Saturday. She appeared in such early film classics as "What Price Glory?" and "The Way of All Flesh."

Actress, 44, Taken
NEW YORK (AP)—Betty Lawford, 44, stage, television and screen actress, died Sunday in a hospital here. She was a native of London. On Broadway, she appeared in original productions of "The Women," "Dough Girls" and "The Voice of the Turtle."

Fellow Merchants Classified By Age

CORTEZ, Colo. — A business man here has classified fellow merchants as to age by observing them.

These are his conclusions:

Ages up to 35: Girl watchers.

Up to 45: Bird watchers.

Above that: Watchers of time and temperatures on the big clock outside a local bank.
